Hires undercover agent

Abate guilty of hiring hit man

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Natale (Tony) Abate, 28, a former Antioch resident, now living in Chicago, was convicted on one count of solicitation for murder and nine counts of the illegal sale of firearms by a federal jury last week.

According to John Gallo, assistant U. S. attorney, Abate could face up to 10 years in a federal prison on the murder solicitation charge and up to 55 years in total on the gun selling charges. He is due to be sentenced on Aug. 3.

In 1988, Abate was found not guilty in a Lake County court of threatening an Antioch man, Don Carden, in connection with an "Airplane (pyramid) Scheme" that had been operating in the area.

On Friday, the federal jury found Abate guilty of soliciting an undercover federal agent to murder Carden. The agent was investigating Abate for illegally selling guns to gangs at the time of the solicitation.

When the pyramid scheme was operating in Antioch, participants paid $1,500 for a seat on the plane and supposedly worked their way up to pilot by selling seats.

Abate was suspected of threatening a 24-year-old Antioch woman who had refused to give a participant back his $1,500 after selling him a seat. He was also suspected of destroying the woman's car, but he was never charged with either offense.

He was later arrested and charged with threatening Carden but a Lake County jury let him go.

At the time, Antioch Police Lt. Tom Fisher had Antioch police watch the girl's home, concerned that harm might come to her family or the house itself after the car was destroyed.

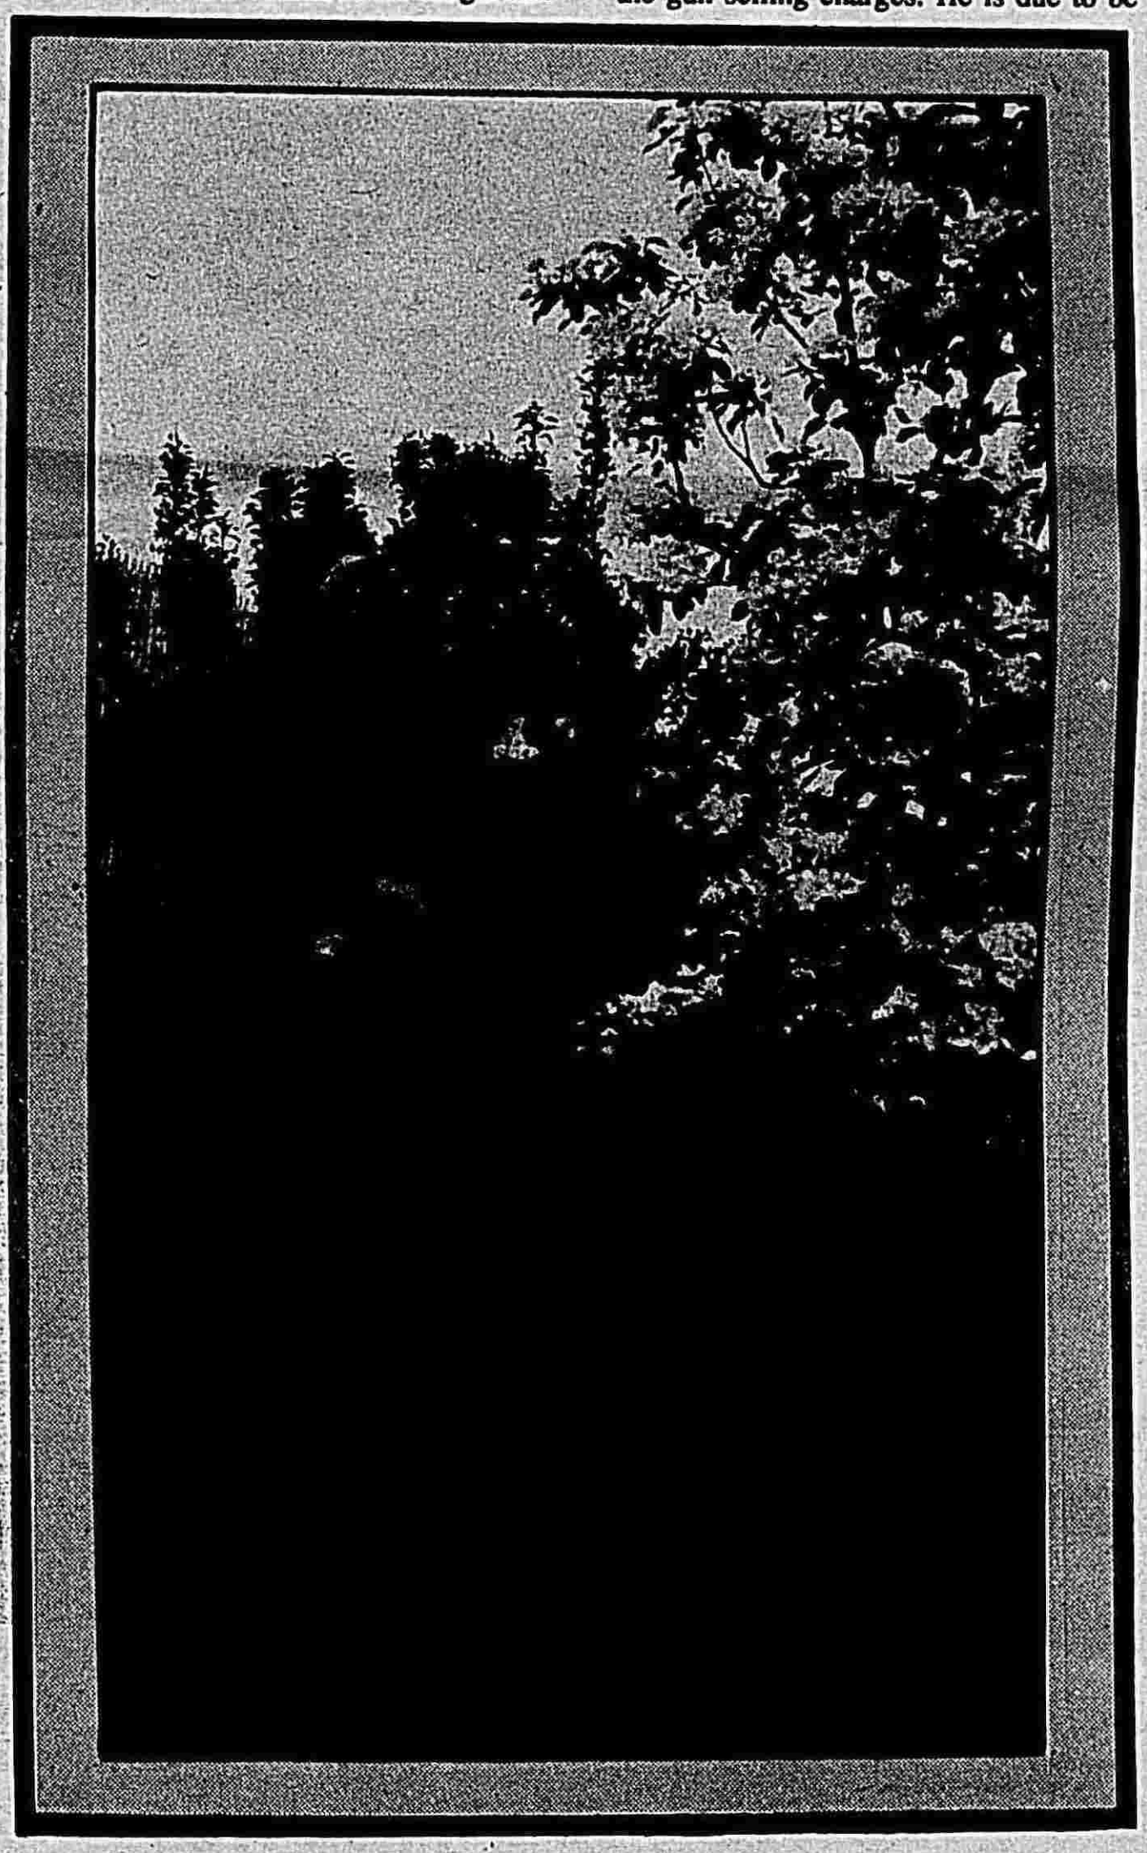

According to Fisher, no overtime was put in, and he felt it was the duty of the police department to protect Antioch residents.

Members of the Toft administration and the police department castigated Fisher for "playing favoritism" because he was acquainted with the victim and her family.

No one involved with the illegal "Airplane Scheme" was ever charged.

A very short time later, Fisher, who had been first in command of the police department during Chief Chuck Miller's several month sick leave, and second in command under Miller, was moved sideways and made investigative officer with a department consisting of himself under his command.

Sgt. Charles Watkins was promoted to lieutenant and given equal rank and more people under his jurisdiction until Robert Wilton was elected mayor.

Heron Harbor start is given green light

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Although many such Chain O'Lakes developments have been scuttled by both the Army Corps of Engineers and strong opposition from residents, the Heron Harbor recreational/residential development has been given the green light for Phase 1 by the Antioch Village Board.

Final approval was given the 600-acre, 474 unit project being developed by Fogelson Dev., west of Rte. 59 and south of Rte. 173 on Lake Marie, after the Antioch Village Board took action on numerous variance and zoning requests from Fogelson.

Word is that Fogelson is also negotiating with the Osmond family for the commercial property at the corner of Rtes. 59 and 173.

Although the developers are asking for 294 boat slips on Lake Marie, they have agreed to go with the final number approved by the Army Corps.

The property in question had been given R5 zoning 10 years ago and the density of the planned building, consisting of single family homes and town homes, is much lower than the maximum, 1,100, already allowed for the area.

Nau trying to get out again

Lake County's own star stalker, Ralph Nau, 35, rural Antioch, is due for another sanity hearing in a Kane County Court.

Nau, once accused of the murder of his stepbrother, Dennis Gerken, on a farm in Antioch Twp. in 1984, has also been accused of stalking many stars including Cher and Olivia Newton John, whom he reportedly followed all the way to Australia in 1983.

Nau was declared incompetent to stand trial on charges in his stepbrother's death.

In the fall of 1986, a Lake County court ruled that Nau was not of sane mind when he confessed to Gerken's murder.

He has been incarcerated at the Ill. Dept. of Mental Health in Elgin since.

Every bloomin' thing

Mother Nature does her spring painting as Lake and Kenosha counties blossom forth with flowering crab apple, plum and almond trees that make a pine and white fairyland out of northern Illinois and southeastern Wisconsin. Miller to address Republicans May 18

James Miller

With the Federal Budget front and center, the Lake County Republican Federation is coming up with a timely speaker for its 1990 campaign dinner May 18 at the Mundelein Holiday Inn. "James C. Miller III, who was director of the Office of Management and Budget in President Ronald Reagan's cabinet and previously chairman of the Federal Trade Commission will enlighten the audience with his insightful commentary. Miller is presently the chairman of the Board of Citizens for a Sound Economy, and a sound economy is a concern of all Republicans," said David Amory, Federation president.

Miller is also a lecturer in economics at George Mason University, has written more than 100 articles on economics and is the author, co-author or editor of seven books. The most recent is: "The Economist as Reformer: Revamping the FTC." His latest book project is tentatively titled, "Can the U.S. Budget be Saved? Reflections of an 'Abominable No-Man.'"

Miller recently contributed articles to the Wall Street Journal on the need for legislative item veto to deal with egregious pork barrel measures, and on the tax proposals of the chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, Dan Rostenkowski. Miller said that under the Rostenkowski plan, the only ones going "cold turkey" would be the taxpayers.

Born in Atlanta and raised in Conyers, Ga., Miller has a PhD in economics from the University of Virginia. In government he has also served as executive director of the Presidential Task Force on Regulatory Relief, chaired by then Vice President George Bush.

The Federation dinner, which is expected to draw an attendance over 600, will get underway with a reception at 6 p.m. Dinner will begin promptly at 7:30 p.m., followed by Miller's presentation, and concluding with dancing to the music of "The Cabaret."

Dinner chairman is Robert Murley, managing director of First Boston, Chicago. Chairman for the $175 Patron ticket is Barry MacLean, president of MacLean Fogg in Mundelein, assisted by President Amory of Lake forest and L. Robert Pasquesi of Pasquesi, Sheppard & Co. The hardworking co-chairman for the regular dinner tickets are Susan Gravenhorst, a University of Illinois trustee, and Jack "Red" Anderson, Lake County treasurer. Kathy Rubenstein, president of the Vernon Twp. Republican Club is coordinating decorations.

Regular dinner tickets are $50 per person, and are available from any committee member, Federation Board of Governors members, Republican County official, or at Republican Headquarters, (708)623-0235.

This is the largest county-wide Republican fundraiser, when all Republicans gather to greet, meet, and make merry for the benefit of the Grand Olde Party. Funds raised through the dinner will be used to aid the Republican election campaign and to support the full-time Republican Headquarters in Waukegan.

McHenry Lock to open May 14

Beginning Monday, May 14, the McHenry Lock on the Fox River will be open for the boating season, the Illinois Dept. of Transportation has announced.

The Lock will be open from 8 a.m. to midnight seven days a week.

Boaters using the Lock will need to have: (1) - the sticker issued by the Chain O'Lakes Fox River Waterways Management Agency; (2) - the state Dept. of Conservation boating registration; and (3) - safety equipment required by the Illinois Boating Act.

We're working hand in hand with some of the world's best cardiologists.

Thanks to the unique association between Victory Memorial Hospital and St. Luke's Medical Center in Milwaukee, one of the world's most sophisticated diagnostic heart care procedures–the cardiac catheterization–is now available close to home.

Quality heart care begins with a careful and complete study of all the subtle workings of the heart. That's why we have added a state-of-the-art cardiac catheterization lab to the Cardiac Care Program at Victory Memorial. The catheterization procedure is performed by a team of cardiologists from St. Luke's–the acknowledged leader in heart care in the region.

In addition to our advanced diagnostic capabilities, the physicians at Victory Memorial are experienced in the treatment of a wide range of heart conditions. And if a patient develops a condition that requires surgery or angioplasty, we are prepared to transfer the patient to St. Luke's.

If ever a heart condition demands immediate attention, the emergency department at Victory Memorial is fully trained and equipped to handle almost any cardiac emergency.

For patients who may require it, our rehabilitation and wellness programs are designed to quickly return them to the quality of life they're accustomed to.

Finally, the people of Lake County have comprehensive heart care close at hand.

If you have any questions about the heart care program that starts with Victory Memorial, ask your doctor. Or, if you don't have a doctor, call us at (708) 360-4101 for a free physician referral or for a brochure describing our program.

Water agency donates emergency equipment

The Central Lake County Joint Action Water Agency Board of Directors has voted to approve the purchase of $75,000 in emergency rescue equipment and $12,000 for specialized rescue training for the fire departments serving the Agency area. The special emergency equipment requested by local fire departments will enable them to maintain their high level of readiness and ability to handle any emergency in their response areas.

The Water Agency Project will require the construction of a 120-foot deep shaft of 65 feet in diameter to be build into the bluff along Lake Michigan with a tunnel that extends 400 feet into Lake Michigan in order to draw fresh water into the raw water intake station. In addition, 32 miles of trench-type construction for the installation of the distribution system will be required in the agency area. There also will be numerous pipeline projects being undertaken by the member communities.

Area fire chiefs were consulted by the agency to insure that they understood the project's scope and that they would not be affected adversely by the demands the project may place on their departments. A panel of fire chiefs compiled a list of emergency equipment needed for the water project and have submitted a proposal for establishing a specialized rescue team comprised of three firefighters from eight fire departments. This rescue team will learn tunnel and trench emergency rescue procedures during an intensive three-month training period.

"We (the board of directors) felt it was necessary and appropriate to approved this request for emergency rescue equipment since it is our project that is placing additional demands on the local fire departments," stated David Graf, chairman of the Water Agency. "In addition, the training provided can only be beneficial to all the area departments should similar rescue situations occur anywhere in the county. The agency is by and for all the member communities, and we are part of each community and feel our obligations to participate strongly," continued Graf.

The Central Lake County Joint Action Water Agency's total project is scheduled for completion in 1992 and will supply fresh water to 12 communities (Grayslake, Gurnee, Lake Bluff, Libertyville, Mundelein, Round Lake, Round Lake Beach, Round Lake Heights, Round Lake Park, Vernon Hills and the unincorporated areas of Knollwood/Rondout and Wildwood) who currently use well water systems or purchase their water from other municipalities.

For further information about the project contact the agency offices at (708)295-7788.

Chain agency has its hands full

Directors of the Chain O'Lakes-Fox River Management Agency have their hands full these days.

They have to:

1. Hire a new executive director.

2. Find an estimated $15,000 to $20,000 unaccounted for in the annual audit.

3. Do their share to implement the Chain O'Lakes-Fox River Special Area Management Plan (SAMP) being spearheaded by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Hiring a replacement to Al Moltrum, who resigned at the end of the year, will be the easiest. Directors expect to make up their minds of three finalists from an original field of more than 40 at a meeting May 14. A public announcement will follow soon after.

The next two tasks may be more difficult. The unaccounted for monies case is in the hands of the State's Attorney's office.

Formulating the SAMP plan won't be easy, based on a wide variety of needs cited by citizens attending hearings in Lake and McHenry counties. A total of 300 persons attended.

Dredging and where to locate dredged material still is a major concern of waterfront property owners and boaters alike. Noise, pollution and erosion also were cited as problems by persons addressing agency directors at a meeting last week at Grant High School.

The management plan group was formed to conduct a two-year study. Goals for the first year include reaching an interstate agreement with Wisconsin to reduce the amount of sediment flowing down the Fox River into the Chain O'Lakes; preparing a wetland creation, restoration and enhancement program; and producing marina and boat ramp guidelines for the Corps of Engineers while still trying to take local governmental concerns under consideration.

Third Lake board talks Deer Trail group's woes

Members of the Deer Trail Home and Land Owners Assn. received support for their cause from some members of the Third Lake Village Board Monday night.

However, there was not enough support among the trustees to support sending a letter to the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist.

Trustee Scott Brumel read portions of a letter sent to him by Joanne Carter of the Deer Trail group. The Deer Trail residents are trying to negotiate with the forest preserve to allow them to maintain their two homes now and three planned on 100 acres fo the 400 acre Almond Rd. Marsh. The group has offered to deed significant amounts of the land for future open space.

Brumel pointed out the village board had written letters in the past supporting the Forest Preserve. His motion stated that the Forest Preserve should consider the Deer Trail Home and Land Owners Assn. plan, that the plan is of no cost to taxpayers, as an option to total condemnation and "publically clarify its position".

Trustee Rick Reardon said "too little thought has been given to send a letter."

Trustees Charles David, Bev Remington and Brumel supported the proposed letter. Trustee Reardon abstained and Mayor Karen McCluskey voted no, defeating the motion.

"I did not think we knew enough about the issue," McCluskey said.

In other business, trustees discussed establishing the position of peace officer in the village. Brumel said the public safety committee has had trouble meeting in the past few months regarding the issue.

"The ordinances right now are not being enforced," he said.

The peace officer would not carry a gun, but would be responsible for letting people know if they are in violation. Trustees discussed the need for a job description for the post.

Third Lake resident Bill Reavis was mentioned as someone who could fill that role. Reavis has experience as a military police officer, five years with the City of Highwood as a police officer and part-time position with the Mundelein Park Dist. as conservation officer.

"I think it is workable. It is something we have been trying to do since January," Reavis said.

Reavis said the village has had a set time of 3 p.m. Fridays at Fox Lake branch court but has not used that time slot to prosecute violators. The only way the village presently prosecutes is by lawsuit.

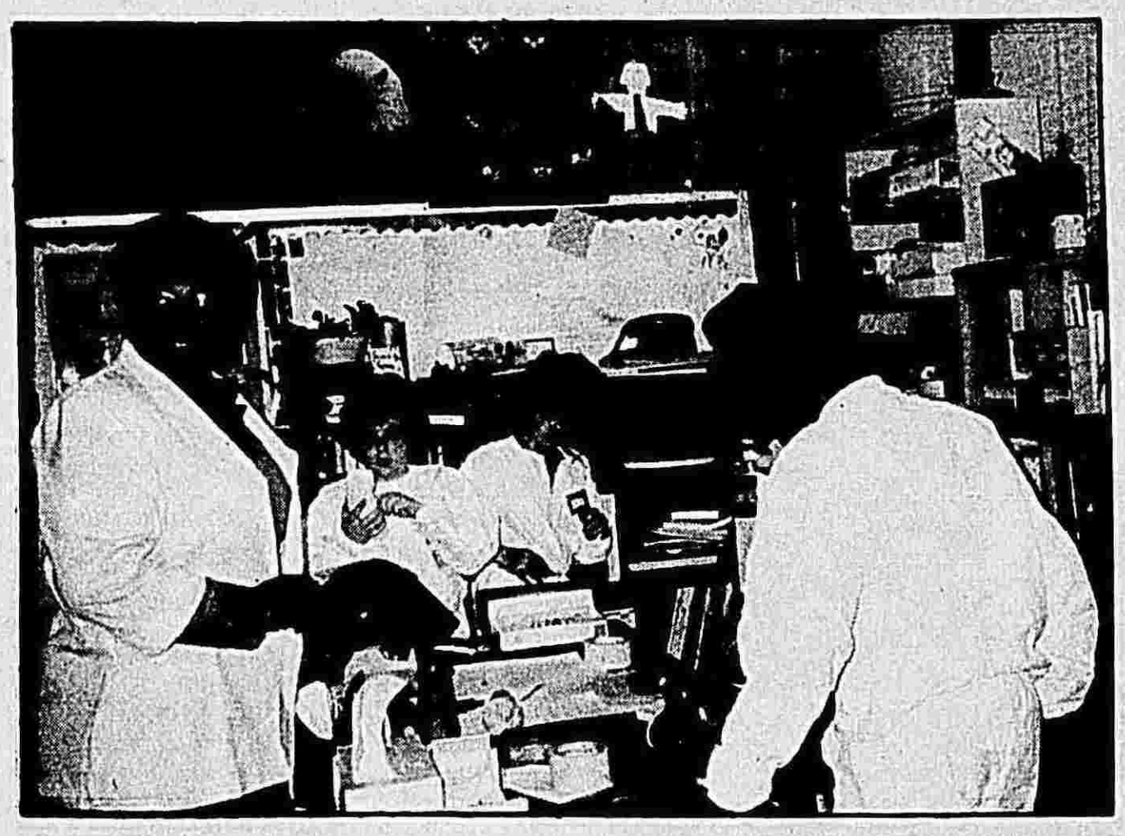

"We've got to move forward," Reavis said.

-The board accepted the resignation of Trustee Lee Behr. McClusky said a notice will be placed in the village newsletter seeking candidates for appointment.

-It was decided that the village board meetings through September will begin at 8 p.m.

-Some $500 was approved for the public works committee to spend on grading work at the village's boat launch.

-Trustees discussed progress for the village's zoning ordinance.

"This is mission control. Over."

The mission control team for all Lake County schools participating in the Blast Off work feverishly taking down information coming in from 9 different space capsules at 9 different schools. Among information collected in this central location at Green Bay School in North Chicago was weather information, vital signs of the young astronauts participating in the program, and scientific information collected from the various experiments conducted in the various space modules. Among the major mission control team are Tylo Eddins, 12, head of mission control, Lily Bennett-Hurd, mission commander and Learning Arts teacher at Green Bay, Jessica Hill, 12, Joylene Martin, 12, Joel Ramirez, 12, Kelly Crandall, 11, Mitchell Bowden, 11, and Edwin Enriquez, 11.—Photo by Pat Christensen

Civic center authority could aid arts center

A measure expanding the boundaries of the Waukegan Civic Center Authority to all of Lake County has been endorsed by the Illinois House Executive Committee.

The bi-partisan legislation is considered to be a vital step toward creation of a Lake County Cultural Arts Center now being studied by two consultants employed by the Lake County Arts Council with grants from the state and the Forest Preserve Dist.

Enabling legislation expanding the Waukegan entity was introduced by Rep. John Matijevich(D-Waukegan) and Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa).

The civic center plan has the backing of Charles Isely III, president of the Waukegan-Lake County Chamber of Commerce who sees the center being coupled with convention and tourism efforts.

By coupling the arts center proposal with a civic-convention center, Isely pointed out that financial support could be obtained through the county's existing tax on hotel room rentals. Now at four percent , raising the tax to the five percent limit is envisioned as producing $500,000 a year in revenue for debt service.

The arts center has been proposed for a site owned by the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. at Brae Loch Rd. and Rte. 45 adjacent to Brae Loch Gold Course which is owned by the county.

Adams may see movies 'a little more often'

by PAT CHRISTENSEN
Lakeland Newspapers

"I tend to read quite a bit. We don't get out too often," said Bob Adams, winner of Lakeland's Academy Award Contest. Adams, 34, works at Abbot Laboratories and lives in Mundelein.

The contest involved naming the winners of this year's Academy Awards in six different categories. Adams got five out of the six correct.

Now that he's won the contest, Adams said, "We'll probably go to the movies a little more often. We may take the kids, or maybe just use it as more of a reason to get out by ourselves.

The prize for the contest was 12 free admissions to any RMC theaters.

Adams said his family watches videos mostly. When they do go out, he said they attend movies in Libertyville, Mundelein and, once in a while, Lakehurst.

Adams said that he and his wife prefer comedies. His wife particularly enjoyed Driving Miss Daisy (one of the award-winners) Adams said, also, that movies are a great stress reliever.

Deciding on a movie is never a stress point for the Adams family. "We get two daily papers and both weeklies, along with Time magazine, Esquire, and just a tremendous amount of reading material at our house. By the time a movie comes out, I've read two or three reviews. Even at budget prices, you don't want to be surprised," explained Adams.

Adams said his two favorite movies are "American Graffiti" and "It's A Wonderful Life". The movie he's most looking forward to seeing? "Roger and Me".

Ice Cream Social

The committee for the 75th anniversary celebration of the Antioch Community High School will be holding an old fashioned Ice Cream Social on Sunday, May 20, from 1 until 4 p.m. The social will be held in the high school commons and everyone, young and old is invited. At 3 p.m. the committee will bury a time capsule which will be uncovered at the 100th anniversary of the high school. The committee also has a commemorative plate and a pewter Sequoit Indian figure for sale in honor of the 75th anniversary. These can be purchased at the high school or at the Antioch Village Hall.

Card Party

St. Peter Council of Catholic Women in Antioch will sponsor a card and bunco party on Tuesday, May 15 at 1 p.m. in the church hall. Tickets are $2. This party was planned for early in the day because so many women in the area are looking for things to do in the afternoon. Refreshments will be served. Kay Kennelly and Joan Fry, co-chairladies, will be happy to welcome everyone.

Fashion Show

The Antioch Christian Women's Club invites everyone to a Spring Formal Fashions Show at 12:30 p.m., on Thursday, May 17, at the Landmark Restaurant. Tickets are $8.75 per person and reervations must be made by May 10. Call (708)395-1281.

Oakland becomes hatchery

Every spring, grade school students in Lake County learn what came first, the chicken or the egg when they take part in the learning project of hatching duck, geese and chicken eggs. The classes of Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Zoller and Mrs. Burke took part in the project at Oakland Grade School. Death walks ACHS halls with DUI demonstration

In keeping with Antioch High School's drive against drug and alcohol abuse, last week, members of a student organization, Lifeguard, made a strong statement about deaths caused by drug and alcohol abuse.

On Thursday, the day before ACHS's junior prom, a traditional drinking occasion, members of Lifeguard gave real life drama to the dangers of drinking and driving.

The latest statistics say that someone dies because of a drunken driver every 23 minutes.

So all through the school day on Thursday, every 23 minutes, a death knell was sounded over the school's intercom and at the same time, a member of Lifeguard would leave class and put on a hooded black robe, signifying death.

As soon as the student put on the robe of death, thus becoming dead, they became silent for the rest of the school day.

By the final bell there were 16 black robed, dead students silently strolling the halls of the school.

Did this dramatization work? According to ACHS Supt. Gary Allen, although some liquor was confiscated from a car at the prom, there were no reports of any ACHS student being involved in a drinking-driving accident or being arrested for drunken driving on prom night.

Lizard extends May Happy Birthday wishes

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(708)395-5380

May Birthdays

Sorry folks, every now and then the Lizard gets forgetful and this is one of those times. I forgot to list the May birthdays last week, so I decided to give them top billing this week. The following people will be celebrating birthdays in May. Please join me in wishing them all a very happy birthday: Jeffie Pierce, Jennifer Hart, Kelley Brausam, John Webel, Victor Bennett, Ben Friel, Dale Kitto, Don Grob, Kelly Forst, Frank Nava, Andrew Teaters, Lindsey Mastalerz, Matt Naughton, Ryan Staten, Amber Gore, Christian Ward, Lisa Priller, Adam Marsala, Ardeen Harris, Luigi Schmehl, Robert Edelman, Jeremiah Buss, Brandie Wennerstrom, and Jenny Laube. Better late than never, right?

Food Program

I picked up my first order of SHARE/foods this week, and I was definitely happy with what I received. Remember all it takes to be eligible in the SHARE/food Program is to give three house of community service each month. SHARE/food is sponsored by the Exchanged Club of Antioch. Try it, you'll like it!

Garage Sales

Please do not forget that May 17, 18, 19 and 20 are the dates of the first annual Antioch Community Garage Sales. Contact the Chamber of Commerce if you would like to join in .

Special Honors

I would like to give special mention to three Grass Lake are people for achieving a very special honor. On Sunday, May 22, Cathy Cramer, Jenny Harris, and Kenneth Mattson, were inducted into the National Honor Society in a beautiful candlelight ceremony held at the school. Cathy, Jenny, and Ken, graduated from Grass Lake School in 1986 and will be graduating from ACHS with honors this June. Congratulations to all of you!

First Communion

Seven year old, Beck Clarke, of Antioch made her First Holy Communion in a special ceremony at St. Peter's Church on Sunday, April 29. Beckey looked beautiful in her elegant white dress designed especially for her by her mom, Pam Clarke. Becky is in the second grade at Grass Lake School and attends religion classes at St. Peter's School.

Hometown Goodies

Ice Cream Social

The ACHS 75th Anniversary Committee will be sponsoring an "Old-fashioned Ice Cream Social.

The social will be held in the high school commons on Sunday, May 20, from 1 to 4 p.m. At 3 p.m. on May 20, a time capsule will be buried and will be uncovered in 25-years when ACHS celebrates its 100th anniversary. The present, ACHS students, parents, alumni, and all members of the Antioch Community are welcome to attend the Ice Cream Social to help celebrate this special event in the history of ACHS.

Turns 50

Don Fechtner turned 50 years young on April 21. About 60 friends and relatives gathered in the ground-floor banquet room at Antioch Bowl to help him celebrate this turning point in style. Don had to endure a roast in his honor conducted by his friends, Keith Hansen, Tom Seputis, Warren Regnier, Ray Brausam, Craig Fuller, and George Colletti. The group had a great time teasing Don about all of his little idiosyncrasies. Don's wife, Judy planned this special event with the assistance of Julie Groh and Judy Hansen. The room was decorated Hawaiian style and everyone attending dressed like an islander for the occasion. The food was delicious, and the music from the 50's lured everyone onto the dance floor doing the jitterbug, the stroll, etc.

Iceless Hockey

The sixth and seventh grade Boys' Iceless Hockey Awards Banquet was a huge success. It was held at Maravela's on Sunday, April 22. The players and coaches sat at tables designated for the specific teams and the parents and other guests intermingled here and there. Each player received a trophy and the first place team was presented a special trophy to be kept on display at the Lake Villa Intermediate School where all of the games were played this season. After the trophy presentations, everyone enjoyed a delicious meal of chicken, beef, pastas, potatoes, veggies, salads, jellos, etc. The coordinators of the Boys' Iceless Hockey program are working on the possibility of extending the program to eighth grade next year. Originally the program was for boys from first through fifth grade. Then it was extended to include grades six and seven. It is a fantastic program made possible by the dedicated volunteers who give of their time so freely. Special thanks to the coordinators, the coaches and the referees. Also a thank you to the players and parents for conducting themselves with proper sportsmanship throughout the season.

Art Show

Approximately 50 Camp Crayon students, along with 15 of their moms, and the four teachers attended a performance of "Sesame Street Live." They traveled by bus to the Rosemont Horizon and afterwards everyone stopped at McDonald's for lunch. Miss Marie, Miss Ardeen, Miss Pat, and Miss Julie would like to thank all the moms for attending and helping out with the little ones. They would also like to thank all of the students for being so sell behaved.

Blooper Time

It is "Blooper" time again and this month's blooper mentions go to Jim Weber of the Antioch Public Works Dept. and to Ray Brausam, "organized" businessman. Jim sorry but I happened to be close by that day you backed over the man hole cover in the process of mowing the lawn behind the Antioch Scout house. Let's see, just how long did you take trying to free that mighty mower before you resorted to getting assistance from your fellow workers? When they arrived to "tow" you off the cover, it was obvious to me they sure enjoyed razzing you about your mishap. As for Ray Brasan, I have one question "Would you like a paper weight to keep on hand in your sports car?" On a bright and sunny day, Ray was on his way to a business meeting. He decided to combine business with a little pleasure and opened the t-top window on his sports car. As he was cruising along, his important business papers began blowing out of the roof of the car. What a way to go Jim and Ray. Remember I have spies lurking everywhere just to fill me in on bloopers.

Thanks Patrons

The Grass Lake School Yearbook was distributed to the students on Friday, May 4. The yearbook staff hopes everyone is enjoying the book as much as they enjoyed putting it together. They would also like to thank the local businesses who took out patron ads to help reduce the price of the book to the students. Thanks patrons, we could not have done it without you: C. Haling & Sons, Robert Churchill, The Short Cut, Allstate (Don Fechtner), Floral Acres, Raymond Chevy (Pete Marsala), Diamond Chemical, Diemer Plumbing & Heating, State Farm (Bob Stengel), Lake Area Electric, Mary Kay Cosmetics, PSL Insurance (Tony Santiemmo), Bank of Waukegan, Lakeview Realty, Inland Harbor Marina, Osmond Insurance, Power Marine, Hank Cook Gutters, First National Bank, Antioch Schwinn, The Advertiser, Fringe Benefits, Skandia House, Re/Max Realty (Bev Kull), State Farm (Dick Witt), Lakes Area Music, J.J. Blinkers, Spring Lake Marina, Antioch Pizza, and State Bank of Antioch.

Display Artwork

The art work of the students presently decorating the hallways of Grass Lake School is beautiful. When you are in the school please take notice of the talents and efforts of the students. You will definitely be impressed. I was and I am also jealous!

Well, folks, this is it. Time for me to roast the duck I received from SHARE/foods.

Community Service Awards

The Antioch Exchange Club has recognized five Antioch area students with Community Service Awards for their efforts in performing community and church work. The students were nominated by pastors and community leaders. Those students and their leaders include: (from left) Grant Wilson, Cara Wissinton, Juanita Zellmer, Exchange Program Leader Jim Lienhardt, Exchange Club President Claudette Skvarce, Jennifer Sweeney and Michelle Rosinski. The First National Bank of Antioch also awarded each student with a Proof Eagle Dollar for their efforts---Photo by Erma Koziel

Sequoits win two, lose doubleheader

Going into a week with two games against Mundelein, Antioch baseball Coach Greg Decker knew this was the time for his Sequoits to make some inroads in the North Suburban Conference baseball scene.

The Sequoits did just that, registering a 9-1 win over the Mustangs in the first game and rallying two days later to win 8-6. The Sequoits then dropped a doubleheader to second-place Libertyville Saturday.

"I tried to keep them involved in the game," Decker said of a six-run seventh inning which was needed to rally against Mundelein in the second game.

Mundelein led 3-0 early and it was 6-2 before the start of the fateful seventh inning. "I switched some personnel and some kids who weren't doing too much came through," Decker said.

Jack Thompson contributed a double and Dan Pappadakis a triple to start things off. Dan Lamb had a three-for-four game with two Runs-Batted-In to raise his average above .500.

Keith Depperschmidt picked up his second win of the week.

"On Tuesday, we looked as if we should have looked all year long," Decker said.

Against Libertyville, the day after prom saw the Sequoits lead early in the first game 3-1 before the Wildcats won 6-3. Decker let the reserves play in the second game, a 13-0 Libertyville win that dropped Antioch to 4-22 overall.

Deer Trail joins others eyeing forest preserve

The Deer Trail Rd. Home and Land Owners Assn. will be in attendance when an Antioch homeowners group meets May 24 to discuss a common concern.

Namely, the strategies and policies of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist.

Dave Meehan, president of the Deer Trail group, said it is "hard to say" if the group will merge with the Antioch Property Owners Assn., which will meet at Antioch Twp. Hall. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The Deer Trail group has met with Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. Land Acquisition and Preservation Committee, asking two homes be allowed to stay and three more be constructed in the Almond Rd. Marsh area. The committee voted 8-4 to deny the proposal.

"As a group, we own more than 100 acres. Presently, there are two homes, and three of us would like to build homes in the near future. This would result in only five homes on the total of 100 acres. This should make it evident to you that we love the open space and want to preserve it for our families and our future. We would like nothing better than to work with the Forest Preserve Board to preserve this open space. We are willing to deed substantial amounts of the land as open space," an April letter from the Deer Trail group to the Forest Preserve Board stated.

Top ACHS trackster

Three-community task force combats drugs

Parents and other concerned residents from Antioch, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst are pooling their efforts through a Communities Task Force on Alcohol and Drugs to effect positive community change.

The task force, which began this spring, was the major force behind unified curfew hours in the three villages of 11 p.m. on week nights and midnight on weekends.

The primary purpose of the organization, according to member Carol Zerba, is to promote education within the community and to communicate the drug and alcohol related problems with not only children, but with parents as well.

"We want to help provide a safe and healthy environment for everyone. The task force is here to promote self-esteem, awareness, friendship and caring within families and the community. It is to be a resource; something kids and parents can call upon and use instead of turning to drugs and alcohol," said Zerba.

The task force has five major objectives: 1) Information and awareness; 2) Education and social skills training; 3) Provide alternative activities such as dances, picnics and parties; 4) Training of impactors, which are people who allow drinking, drugs and bad behavior, and make them aware of the problems they are causing within their family; and 5) Social policy developments (i.e. curfew).

The task force consists of three individuals from Antioch, five from Lindenhurst and two from Lake Villa. In addition, each of the three villages has its own individual group on drug and alcohol awareness, and the three of them together form the communities task force.

Members will soon begin circulating flyers informing residents what the task force is all about. To promote the group, there are also plans in the works for a three-community non-alcoholic picnic with games, food and fun, according to Zerba.

A booth at the summer Lindenfest will be sponsored by the group as well, where members will be able to distribute educational material to residents of the communities.

Zerba said the group "can never have enough members either. As with any volunteer group there is always the need for more help to make this program a success.

The next regular meeting of the Communities Task Force on Alcohol and Drugs will be at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 23 at the Lindenhurst Village Hall.

ACHS concert set for May 10

Members of the Antioch Community High School Concert Band, Jazz Ensemble and Symphonic Band will be featured in spring concert on Thursday evening, May 10 in the high school auditorium.

The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m. with the concert band performing "Short Prelude With Perspectives" by John Caruso, followed by "Fanfare, Ode and Festival" by Bob Margolis. Next will be a Bob Cotter composition called "Birdland" and they will conclude with "Chorale and Shaker Dance" by John Zdechlik.

The next group to perform will be the Jazz Ensemble. They will play two selections from this year's variety show entitled "Hay Burner" by Sammy Nestico and "Winter Games" by David Foster.

The last group to perform for the evening is the Symphonic Band. They will open their portion of the concert with a concert march entitled "Pacific Perimeter" by John Higgins. Following the march the Symphonic band will perform "Calk Walk", the first movement from a Robert Russell Bennett suite entitled "Suite of Old American Dances". "Dance Celestial" by Robert Sheldon and a contemporary arrangement of "For Your Eyes Only" will follow. To close the concert the band will play "Festive Overture" by Dmitri Shostokovich.

Tickets are available from band students or can be purchased at the door. Adults $2 and students $1. All tickets are payable at the door.

Police chief position put on hold for now

An interpretation of the Illinois State Statute pertaining to a village's hiring and firing of a police or fire chief seems to have put the controversy concerning the reappointment of Chief Miller on hold for the time being.

"I need to get a third vote on the side of replacing Miller," said Antioch Mayor Robert Wilton.

For many years, it was thought that the mayor had complete sayso over the hiring and firing of the police chief, having to have a majority board approval on hiring a police chief.

A new interpretation of the statute says that the position must be vacated before it can be filled and there are only three ways to vacate that position: a resignation; a death or a removal by a majority vote of the village board.

At the last polling of the board, four trustees were for keeping Miller on as chief and two went along with the mayor calling for Miller's removal.

Meanwhile, Wilton says, "I'm still working on it," adding that he still does not consider Miller as qualified as some of the applicants he has already had for the job of leading the department that protects Antioch's citizens as the village continues to grow.

Wilton and trustees for Miller's removal cite the failure of the police chief to do things asked of him by the mayor and the police committee, also saying that Miller has "lied" to them on many occasions.

Beauty queen time approaches in Antioch

Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept. is looking for Miss Antioch 1990! She should be a young lady currently living in Antioch, between the ages of 17 and 21, and can be in college or away at school.

For one year, Miss Antioch represents the town at several events. Some events include representing Antioch at the Lake County Fair, the July 4th Parade, the Lions Club Chicken Barbecue, Antioch Chamber of Commerce RV and Boat Show, and more.

The time to select the next Miss Antioch is drawing near. Anyone interested in filling out an application for Miss Antioch can call the Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept. at (708) 395-2160 or stop by the village hall in Antioch to pick up an application.

Currently, the Antioch Parks Dept. has three young ladies signed up for Little Miss Antioch.

Brianna Leukhardt is seven years old and an Antioch village resident. Her hobbies include swimming and biking. Brianna parents are Rick and Joan Leukhardt.

Chasity Marie Bray of the Village of Antioch is the second entry. Chasity is the six-year-old daughter of Jeri and Wesley Jockell in Antioch. Chasity collects "My Little Pony" dolls for a hobby.

Antioch Parks and Recreations' third Little Miss Antioch entry is a young lady by the name of Jennifer Lynn Scales. Jennifer is from the Antioch Twp. area and attends the Antioch Lower Grade School. Her hobbies include gym and piano.

Entries for the Little Miss Antioch Pageant will be taken until June 8, at 5 p.m. no exceptions made. The pageant itself will be held at Antioch Community High School on June 24. This year will be the Fifth Little Miss Antioch and the first to go to Lake County to compete.

Anyone having any questions about entering call call Theresa Weber at (708) 395-2160. Applications are available at the village hall, 874 Main St., Antioch.

Vegas winner

Finalist

Shannon Cunningham, daughter of Gail Ploughman and Dale Cunningham, Antioch, was selected as a state finalist in the 1990 Miss Ill. U. S. Teen Pageant.

To speak prairies

ZION—The Illinois Duneland Preservation Society will feature Dr. Eugene C. Gasiorkiewicz, Emeritus professor of Biological Sciences, University of Wisconsin-Parkside, at their regular luncheon meeting at Rook's Restaurant in Zion, 31st and Sheridan, on Saturday, May 19. The noon meeting, which is open to the public, will focus on prairie restoration and preservation. For reservations call (708) 746-1090.

Petitions vs. trucks

LIBERTYVILLE—Petitions with 300 signatures from residents of four northwest side upscale subdivisions opposing traffic patterns from the new Motorola Inc. plant were presented this week to the village board. Village officials promised to give strong consideration to placing heavy restrictions on truck traffic and requiring all trucks to use Rte. 45. The company is anxious to being construction of its new plant on 85 acres, saying its Arlington Heights and Grayslake facilities are at 100 percent capacity.

Principal will leave

MUNDELEIN—Sister Grace Henneberry, principal of Santa Maria del Popolo School for 24 years, will leave at the end of the school year to take up theology studies at Notre Dame University. She will be feted at a program Sunday, June 3, at Carmel High School. Her successor will be Sr. Marion Murphy, BVM, of Iowa. The school has 580 students and is at capacity in several grades.

Oppose plant

GURNEE—The battle over a proposed cement recycling plant in Park City widened Monday as Gurnee trustees voiced opposition to the plan and promised to explore legal means to block construction.The spectators that crowded the back door of the Gurnee Village Hall included two van loads of Park City residents and their second ward Ald. Ken Enberg. According to Enberg, Elhers & Jurand Enterprises withdrew its original proposal for a site near Farmington Estates in return from the city council affirming that zoning for a second site, north of Washington St., conforms to the intended use.

Woman killed

FOX LAKE---A 28-year-old Fox Lake woman died after being hit by a southbound semi-trailer truck on Interstate 94 in Racine. Lisa Klapper died May 7 at St. Mary's Hospital of injuries suffered when she chased her hat which had blown off onto the roadway and was struck by the truck. The driver of the truck fled the scene after the incident, which occured at about 2:30 a.m.

OK land donation

GRAYSLAKE—Despite threats of a condemnation lawsuit from the Lake County Forest Preserve, Grayslake Village Board is accepting two donations of land.Grayslake Mayor Marv Smith said the land, a 10 foot parcel and another parcel of 12 feet, are necessary for utilities. The land is located south of Rte. 120 adjacent to the 65 acres of land the village annexed earlier this year. The land is owned by the Meyer and Lawrence families. The Monday vote to approve accepting the donations was 4-2 with Smith casting a yes vote. Trustees Glenn Winters and Pat Carey objected to accepting the donation. Voting in favor of the donation were trustees Robert Russell, Sue Stricker and Randy Bussone. Trustee Phil Harris was absent.

Sanctuary eyed

ROUND LAKE—Craig Hendee, internationally known ornthologist, said he would ask cooperation of the Lake County Forest Preserve Friday, May 11 in purchasing 10 acres adjacent to Fairfield Marsh in Round Lake Heights for a breeding center for endangered species. Hendee views the site as "perfect" ecologically and because it is only a short drive from O'Hare Field . Fairfield Marsh is an established breeding area for blue heron. Hendee is known for his efforts in breeding Perigrin falcons in their natural setting. The marsh and nearby wetlands have been targets for a homes development.

Seek more parks

LAKE ZURICH—About 400 residents from the south side of Lake Zurich, urged village officials to pursue a possible land acquistion of park land off of Old Rand Rd. for a neighborhood park. Residents claim they have no park within walking distance. Doug McGrath, president of the Lucerne Homeowners Assn. presented a petition with 399 names, representing 378 children, in support of a possible acquisition of a 33.6-acre site near Mable and Grand Ave., as outlined in the village's five-year master plan. The two property owners, who live out of town, are currently in litigation with each other, over whether to sell the property. Trustee Karen Demos-Rosenthal agreed the south side needs a park.

Fourth richest

LAKE COUNTY—Lake County ranked fourth nationally in per capita personal income in 1988, Per capita personal income for Lake County residents in 1988 was $24,009. The county ranked after the New York City suburban counties of Middlesex-Somerset-Hunterdon, N.J. at $25,140 and before another grouping of New York City suburban counties in Nassau-Suffolk, N. Y., at $23,832. For the nation as a whole, per capita income in 1988 was $16,490, up from $15,484 a year earlier. Per capita personal income is the annual total personal income of residents divided by the area population.

Heron Harbor goes

ANTIOCH — Although many such Chain O'Lakes developments have been scuttled by both the Army Corps of Engineers and strong opposition from residents, the Heron Harbor recreational/residential development has been given the green light for Phase 1 by the Antioch Village Board. Final approval was given the 600-acre, 474 unit project, with possibly 294 boat slips on Lake Marie, being developed by Fogelson Dev., west of Rte. 59 and south of Rte. 173 on Lake Marie, after the Antioch Village Board took action on numerous variance and zoning requests from Fogelson.

Support joinder

FOX LAKE—Annexation of a former gravel pit, regarded as the "window" for southward growth, won unanimous approval from the Planning and Zoning Commission Tuesday night. Approximately 30 acres owned by John Horak is expected to be annexed May 21 with a combination of commercial and residential zoning. Horak told residents of nearby Hilldale Manor that business use still is undecided.

Compost your waste

Illinois is the first state in the nation to ban all forms of landscape waste from disposal in landfills with a ban beginning July 1. Landscape waste comprises 15 to 20 percent of a municipality's total annual waste stream. It is estimated that Illinois citizens generate about 7 to 9 million cubic yards of land waste.

During the summer and fall months, yard waste can amount to 50 percent of residential trash.

As the July 1 deadline nears, villages, townships and the County of Lake are finalizing yard waste disposal programs. Communities must consider educating residents on how to create individual compost sites.

Composting is the controlled decomposition of organic materials using aerobic bacteria. Illinois Dept. of Energy and Natural Resources reports state backyard composting by homeowners is an efficient approach to yard waste diversion because it eliminates the need for organized collection.

The more leaves, grass and brush that can be disposed of at the site where the waste was created---individual yards of the homes of our community---the better for everyone. Individual composting is one time when citizen involvement will have a direct reduction in governmental costs.

Order evaluation

Ordering an evaluation by an impartial consultant sounds like an excellent beginning for the Village of Antioch to untangle the mess surrounding attempts by Mayor Robert Wilton to remove long-time Police Chief Charles "Chuck" Miller.

The evaluation, estimated to cost between $20,000 to $40,000 ought to provide the answers to whether Chief Miller is doing a good job, as attested to by his supporters, or not so good, as insisted by Mayor Wilton.

Chief Miller has remained surprisingly unruffled while controversy swirls around him. Miller's supporters are convinced Mayor Wilton is conducting a political vendetta. Wilton contends that Miller is unfit to lead a modern, professional police department as required by a growing suburban community.

An interesting side development are new interpretations of the statutes over removal from office of high profile department heads like police chiefs. It's much more difficult than waiting for May appointment time to roll around, as the mayor discovered to his dismay.

At this point there is a stand off between the warring factions, Miller backers stoutly maintaining, "No way," and Wilton professing political patience to wait for a third vote so he can cast a tie breaking vote to oust Miller. Conducting an evaluation is a much better way to go.

Citizen Scheskie

After his election in 1966, Harold Scheskie turned out to be the most non-political sheriff in the history of Lake County. Perhaps that is why he only served one term. An up-from-the-ranks law enforcement officer, Scheskie simply was a no-nonsense, nuts and bolts sheriff, dedicated to public service and advancing the cause of highway safety which he hewed to with uncommon enthusiasm during his 32 years in the department. Funeral services were conducted last week for former Sheriff Scheskie who died at age 80.

He was a true citizen of Lake County. Sheriff Scheskie was born on a farm in Deerfield. He married a girl from North Chicago. He attended church in Round Lake. One of his affiliations was the Masonic Lodge in Waukegan. For many years he and his family made their home in Wadsworth. In recent years he resided in Wildwood.

Sheriff Scheskie's management style wasn't always popular. He angered a number of lawyers by tightening up on their credit for serving legal papers and insisted that they pay unpaid bills. He was the first to turn over to the county fees charged for photo copies of auto accidents.

Lake County was a far different community in the middle 60's yet Sheriff Scheskie left an unprecedented legacy for honesty and integrity. After retirement, Sheriff was proud of his simple credo: "Do the kind of job that the people expect of the sheriff's office."

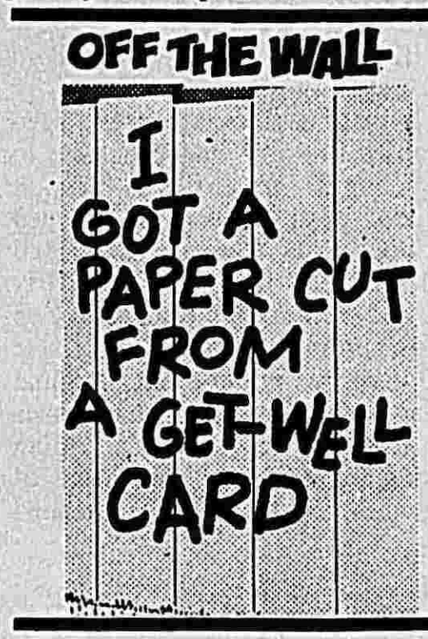

Letters To The Editor

Appreciates column

Editor:

I am writing to thank you for printing regularly the opinions of Dist. 61 legislator John Matijevich. It's a shame that more of our public officials do not use the paper to do the same. As citizens, how can we know who best to put into office if we do not ever get to hear what the legislators/candidates represent? Mr. Matijevich shows his responsibility as a public official by openly expressing himself for all us common folks. In this way he invites letters of both opposition and support. It's time Lake County politicians come out into the open and express themselves to the public at large. I applaud Mr. Matijevich even if I do not agree with everything he says, for he promotes open communication.

Prepared to sell land

Fditor:

We have to deal with progress and so five families south of Rte. 120 and east of Rte. 45 are prepared for the new road which has been a reality for 40 years. We've always known that we'd sell to the state when the time came. The highway department pays the current worth of your land, unlike the Forest Preserve. If the road is coming through, why then does the Forest Preserve want to take the land? Theoretically, by condemning the land and paying what they've offered, they can resell to the state and make a profit that rightfully is ours and our children.

We've no objection to selling to the Forest Preserve, but like any home and land owner, we believed our rights allowed us to sell when we were ready and for the highest offer.

The people backing the Forest Preserve keep saying that they want the open space for future generations. Do they think all of us being condemned and fighting for our rights don't feel the same way? Of course we do, but not at the price of our inalienable rights as citizens of this country! Is that what we want for future generations?

Don't like new homes

Editor:

I don't believe the only reason the group in Lake Villa, Long Lake, and whomever else is involved was to preserve Fairfield Marsh. In my opinion, the people in Lake Villa, who have my representative in the 4th Dist. Suzie Schmidt as their lapdog, simply want to look out their window and not see other homes.

This group in Lake Villa has been working somewhat secretly to condemn this property since December. We found out by accident and when one of our trustees attended their meeting, he was verbally attacked and accused of all sorts of things as if he personally was building houses.

Schmidt said she, in good faith, took the "Marsh" off the agenda so we could talk. What really happened was that statutes say that they have to talk to us because the property is in our village. She also led us to believe that nothing would be done for two or three weeks and we found out that we only had two or three days. Mayor Morris finally was able to be put on the agenda to state our side of the situation. She was given 6 1/2 minutes whereas, as I stated earlier the other side had since December to plead their case.

What the Village of Round Lake Heights did in return was an honest reaction to a very underhanded action.

Ex-GI recalls long-ago night at dog races

by BILL SCHROEDER

It's been a long time since my last dog race. Now that the greyhounds are running closer to home, I shall reconsider my vow of never going to another dog race.

Dog racing is coming to Wisconsin in a big way, so there's reason to change my mind. Geneva Lakes Kennel Club opens May 25 at Delavan, only about a 45 minute drive. Even closer is Dairyland Greyhound Park opening June 1 at Kenosha.

Even though greyhound racing is the sixth most popular spectator sport, Wisconsin promoters are planning plenty of educational opportunities so betters in the stateline area will know what it's all about when they get to the track. Dairyland will conduct handicapping seminars. Geneva Lakes will hold betting classes every day.

But back to my ill-fated adventure at the dog track.

The track was in Phoenix and I was on a weekend pass from Army duty. GI pay never went as far as the needs of the recipient, so I reasoned that a few well placed bets would help the old wallet. My strategy was to play it cautious to start - bet the favorite to show and pyramid for a kill later in the program. The plan started out well and I cashed some tickets on heavy "plunging" at the $2 window. I studied the form charts and listened to a few touts who wanted to see a young soldier strike pay dirt. I finally decided on my bet of the night and laid down $20 on a sure winner.

My hands were clammy with anticipation as the dogs approached the starting line. I caught by breath as my dog sprang into the lead. On the far turn the beautiful dog that was going to make me rich disappeared from the pack. Where was my dog? My heart stopped as I surveyed the track. While the pack strained for the wire, my dog had stopped to make dodo on the track. I never dreamed nature could call during an animal's mission in life. Aren't these canines trained? Sour one guy on dog raising for life—almost.

Back to the track.

Some years later my faith was restored in greyhounds. I got to know a retired racer during a vacation in Michigan. By nature, greyhounds are well mannered and affectionate. At least the one I met was. And could she run! We tried her out behind a pickup truck on a gravel road. The old girl kept right up with the truck-even when her gullet was filled with chicken bones following our barbecue picnic.

So I can vouch that greyhounds are runners. Just make sure they go to the bathroom first.

REAL BELTER—If State Rep. Grace Mary Stern ever retires from politics, she's got a ready second career in show biz. She can write songs and belt'em out as she proved at the dinner honoring State Rep. John Matijevich. "I never use a piano accompaniment, though," Grace Mary confessed. "People could tell then if I'm off key."

RAIL BUFF—Atty. Paul Idlas, who has relocated his law office from Lake Bluff to Grayslake, is a died-in-the-wool rail buff, especially a North Shore Railroad buff. That's the electric line that ran from Chicago to Milwaukee with a spur linking Lake Bluff, Libertyville and Mundelein.

Idlas has a stunning full color poster of the North Shore's famed Electoliner gracing one wall in his office plus other color prints of the line's equipment. "Wouldn't it be something if the North Shore still was in business?" muses Idlas, who was only knee-high to a Big Wheel when the line went out of business in 1963.

We're not sure if an operating North Shore today would mean more or less people around these parts. One thing is sure: the commute time to Chicago would be faster and easier.

Politically Speaking

Lakeland Newspapers

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS—Are you or someone you know celebrating an anniversary? Greetings from your congressman or, even, the White House could help mark the occasion.

To make such arrangements for any milestone occasion, persons in the 10th Dist. can call Congressman John Porter (R-Wilmette) and get a return greeting. Phone the Waukegan office at (708) 662-0101.

For 50th anniversaries and 80th birthdays or above, Porter's office will also arrange personal greetings from President George Bush. Call early. This takes four to six weeks.

The office of Congressman Philip Crane (R-Arlington Heights) (708) 394-0790 says it will do the same.

Porter's office goes a bit further, though. It will arrange color, autographed photos of the president and vice president sent to those making a request.

Going to Washington on a visit? Call Porter's office and get tickets for tours of the White House, FBI, Bureau of Engraving or the House and Senate galleries. Also available is a visitor's guide listing all public tours, public transportation, hotels and restaurants.

And for anyone who doesn't have a 1990 congressional calendar, Porter's office still has a few of those. Just call.

LAME DUCKS—With the end of their years on the County Board in sight, at least three members don't like being referred to as "lame ducks."

They are John Balen of Waukegan with 21 years; F.T. "Mike" Graham of Libertyville, 17 years; and Norman Geary of Grayslake, 26 years.

Balen thinks the term is demeaning. The three promise to be as feisty as always until their last day in office next December.

The three say many people have tried to shoot them down over the years. But they come from the "You-can't-hit-a-moving-target" school.

INSIDE TRACK—As predicted here two weeks ago, one of the candidates for an associate judgeship in 19th Judicial Circuit Court is a member of the State's Atty. Fred Foreman's office. She is Victoria Rossetti of Lake Forest.

The other finalist is also a woman, Margaret Mullen, a former member of the state's attorney's office and now an associate with the Waukegan law firm of Tressler, Soderstrom, Maloney & Priess.

It would appear Foreman, who is in line for a new job himself as federal district attorney for Northern Illinois, runs a good school.

Sitting circuit judges will elect the new associate by secret ballot. The appointee will succeed Albert L. Wysocki, who resigned.

TAXPAYER'S FRIEND—For the 11th year Congressman Philip Crane (R-Arlington Heights) has been named a friend of taxpayers. He was given the 1989 Taxpayer's Friend award by the National Taxpayers Union for votes to hold the line on wasteful federal spending and reduce the deficit. Crane scored 70 percent in the organization's Congressional Spending Survey.

In two of the last three years Crane was named by the organization as the Taxpayer's Best Friend. This year he ranked fourth out of 41 congressmen who were similarly honored.

BAPTIZED REPUBLICAN—Vernon Hills Trustee Pam Newton is now an honest-to-goodness, died-in-the-wool Republican.

You remember her? She ran with Robert Depke last March for the County Board in Dist. 5. She didn't make it, but she's still a trustee in Vernon Hills.

Late last month she got the additional job of precinct committeeman in Vernon 216. The appointment was made by the new county chairman, Robert Churchill, to fill one of the 18 township committeeman vacancies.

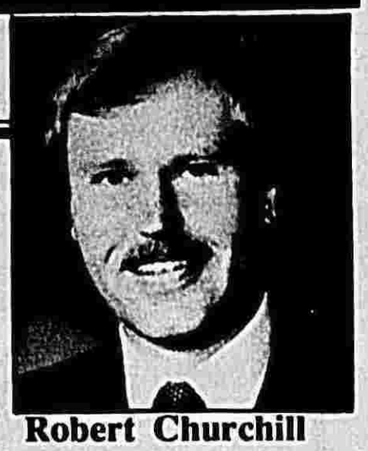

This also baptizes Newton. During last spring's campaign she was criticized for previously voting Democratic.

JOHN WHAT'S HIS NAME—Almost to a speaker, the almost one-dozen persons showering accolades and honors on state Rep. John Matijevich (D-North Chicago) of the 61st Dist. at May 4 testimonial murdered his name.

The Lake County dean of Democratic office holders was honored for his 24 years in the Legislature. Among the sponsors was the entire Lake County Labor Council, which is comprised of 15 unions. Only non-union sponsors were Abbott Laboratories and Atty. William Rosing of Waukegan.

Fellow state Rep. Grace Mary Stern (D-Highland Park) of the 58th Dist. made light of the name game with a song set to the music of "It's a Grand Old Flag." Her's was titled, "It's a Grand Old Name."

Matijevich says the name is Croation. He has no trouble with it. He also wants everyone to know last week's fete was not a retirement party. He promises we'll see and hear a lot more of the Matijevich name in years to come.

That's great news for all of Lake County, where Matijevich is respected as a legislator by Republicans and Democrats alike. Leading the Republican delegation at the gathering were Sheriff Clinton Grinnell, County Board Chairman Norman Geary and Forest Preserve Dist. Chairman C. Richard Anderson.

DEALMAKER RETURNS—Bob Neal, the Republican dealmaker who could give Cook County Democrats lessons, has landed on his feet.

The former county GOP chairman did such damage to the Republican party in the March primary that it never will be the same again. New bylaws followed his demise.

Neal, as you may remember, lost the party chairmanship when the good people of Newport Twp. kicked him out of office as a Republican precinct committeeman.

So he engineered the appointment as chairman of his think-alike friend, state Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa). But Neal is still a wheeler dealer. He knows more about how to be a practicing politician than Churchill. He is also more available. Both figured it was politically astute to have the lawmaker as the party figurehead.

Neal then pulled another string. He had Churchill appoint him to a vacant committeeman's job in Democratic North Chicago. Waukegan 340 is a precinct where only 10 Republican ballots were cast in the March primary. The appointment is allowed by state law. Appointees have no voting power when it comes to party decisions, a technicality Neal is now challenging.

The job gives Neal access to all party meetings, records, and the Waukegan headquarters, and regains some of the prestige he lost with last March's embarrassing defeat.

As for Churchill, this leaves everyone wondering if he or Neal is running the party.

GET WELL WISHES—Recuperating this week in Good Shepherd Hospital in Barrington is first-term Mayor James Kay of Lake Zurich. He suffered stroke symptoms on May 5 that paralyzed his right side. The mayor became alarmed when he was unable to sign his name. He went into the hospital on Sunday for tests ranging from stroke to heart to M.S.

COMING EVENTS: Friday, May 18—Annual Lake County Republican Federation dinner at Mundelein Holiday Inn, Rtes. 45-83. Guest speaker is James C. Miller, director of Citizens for a Sound Economy and director or budget and management under President Ronald Reagan. Cocktails at 6 p.m. and dinner at 7:30 p.m. For $50 tickets call GOP federation office at (708) 623-0235.

Hess: Voters must check registration status

Voters in seven Lake County townships will be receiving cards over the next three months to check on their voter registration status announced Lake County Clerk Linda Hess.

"Lake County is growing rapidly with folks moving daily, and the last person they think to notify is the county clerk. Consequently, precinct lists must be continually 'culled' to keep them accurate," said Hess. "It is vital that voter records be as up-to-date as possible, since this prevents opportunities for vote fraud, as well as reduces election expenses," she continued.

"We began this program in 1988 as an easy and convenient way to 'audit' our records," Hess noted. Under the plan, which is similar to a routine bank audit, voters in the targeted townships will receive a white postcard giving their voter registration information. If it is correct, the voter does nothing. But if it is incorrect, the voter is to notify the county clerk's office, she explained. "The real value of this process," she noted, "is that the post office will return postcards to us when the voter has moved, which signals us that they may no longer be a qualified voter," said Hess. "However, no voter is automatically dropped from the rolls until a two-year period has expired.

"In fact," she continued, "our office sends two additional forwardable notices which helps remind a voter who has moved to re-register.

"We are doing this during the summer months to give voters maximum time to make any necessary changes before election day. Cards will be mailed out this week to voters in Fremont, Vernon and Wauconda Twps.; the week of June 4 to voters in Ela and Libertyville Twps.; and the week of July 9 to voters in Warren and West Deerfield Twps.

In total, 1076,391 voters (45 percent of the registered voters in the county) will receive a notice this summer with additional townships added if there is time. These townships were chosen because they weren't part of earlier audits. "We expect this will be a painless and efficient method to update our records, and we are asking voters for their cooperation by giving us a quick response," concluded Hess.

Rossetti gains appointment

Chief Judge Bernard E. Drew, Jr. has announced Victoria A. Rossetti will be the new associate judge for the 19th Judicial Circuit.

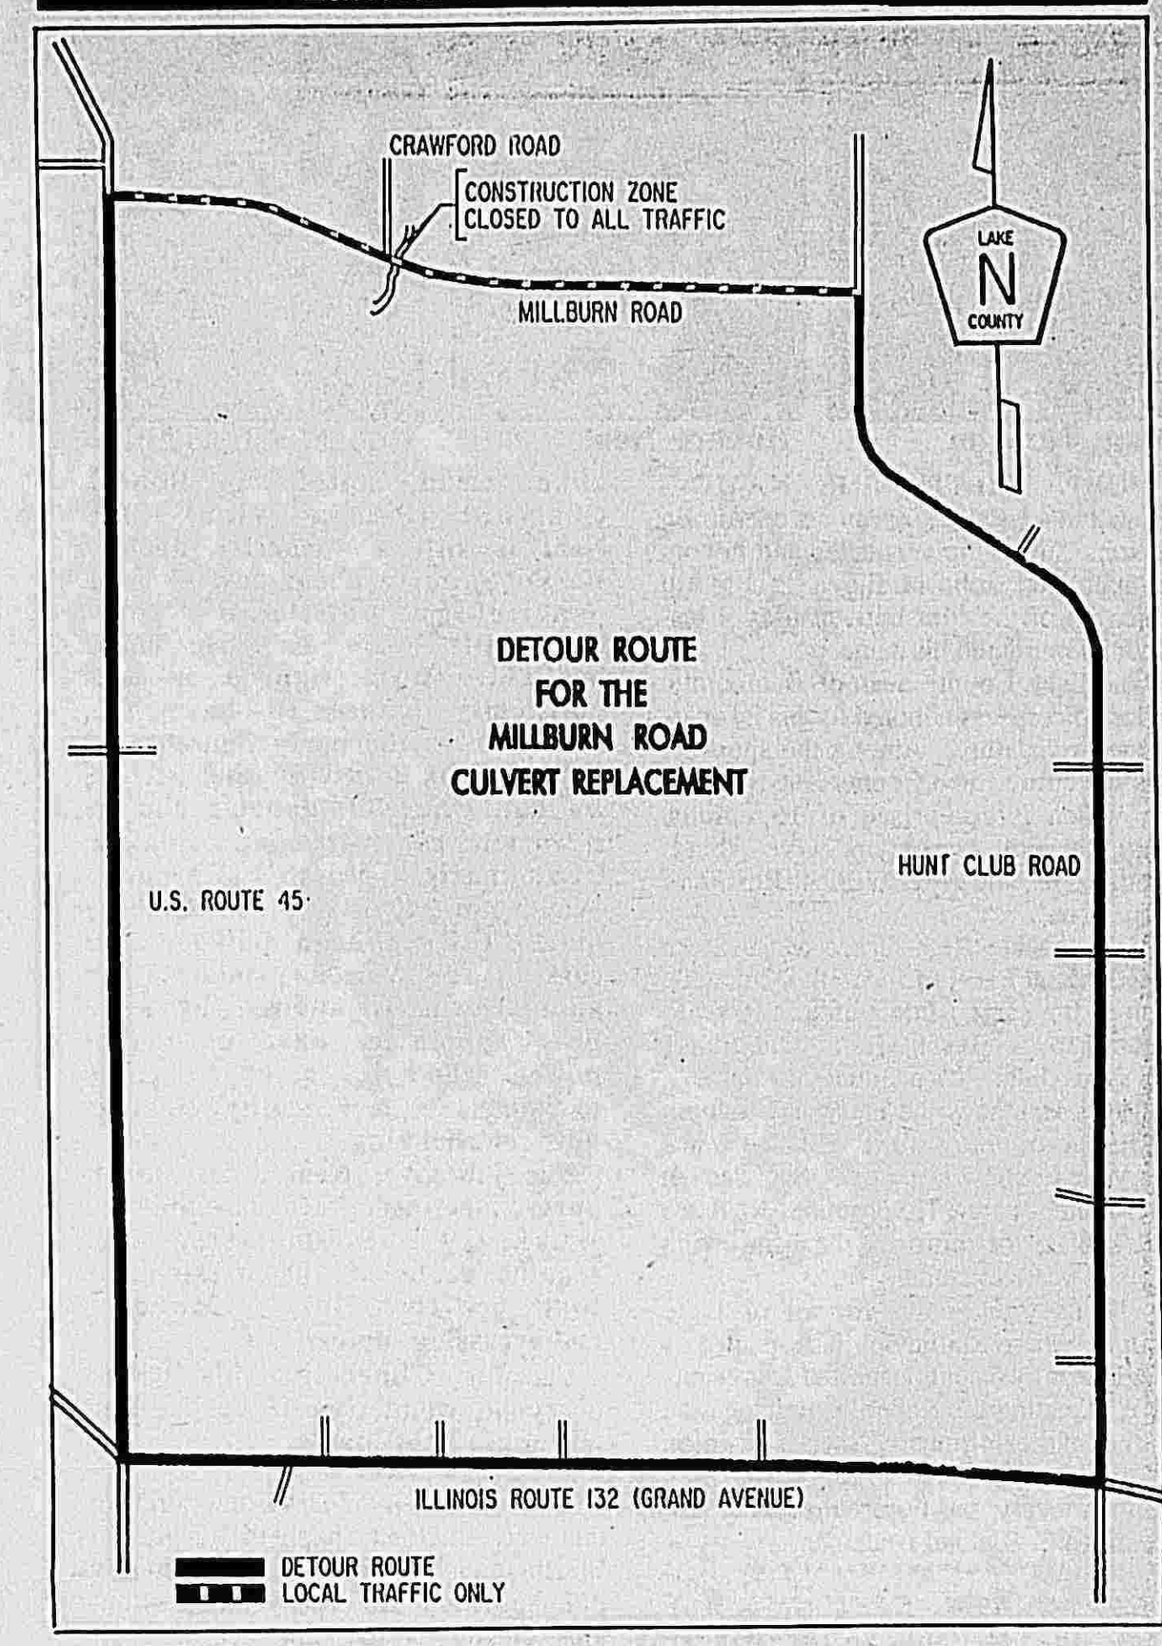

Rossetti is a member of the Illinois State and Lake County Bar Assn., the Assn of Women Attorneys and other professional organizations.

Rossetti will officially become "Judge Rossetti" June 1.

Encourages attendance

Dinner ticket co-chairmen Jack 'Red' Anderson, county treasurer, and Sue Gravenhorst, trustee for the University of Illinois, sign letters to encourage the Republican faithful to attend the annual GOP Federation Dinner May 18.

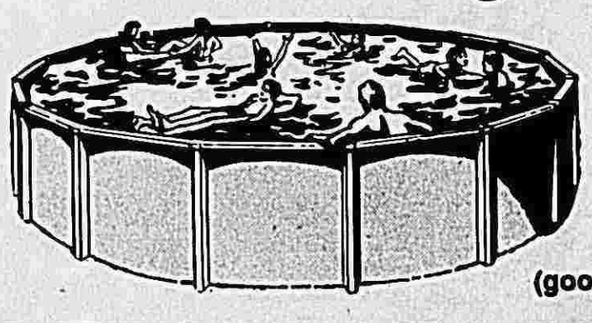

Road closed

The Lake County Division of Transportation will close Millburn Rd. to through traffic from Rte. 45 to Hunt Club Rd. for five days starting May 14. This closure is necessary in order to replace the existing culvert just east of Crawford Rd. Traffic will be allowed from Rte. 45 to the construction site and from the construction site to Hunt Club Rd. No traffic will be allowed in the construction area. The detour route for the Millburn Rd. closure will be Hunt Club Rd. to Rte. 132 (Grand Ave. to Rt. 45, as shown on the above map.

by MALENA SCHROEDER
Lakeland Newspapers

Blazeks Home Furnishings is a full service home interiors store. Everything from furniture and custom draperies, to even refinishing services, can be found there. Located at 767 W. Main St. in Lake Zurich, it is owned and operated by Marilyn and Harold Blazek.

With the current emphasis on discount versus retail stores, their interior design business offers clients merchandise at a discount price but with all of the finesse and expertise of a specialty store. "We're not like salespeople in a department store who could be selling draperies and furniture one week and shoes the next," states Marilyn.

"We take customers to the Merchandise Mart, sell out of our store, or do in-home decorating," she adds. Apparently the Blazeks value the individual when considering the needs of a client. As Marilyn indicates, she's not the kind of decorator who goes into a house insisting on a particular style or piece of furniture. "It has to go with the customer's personality. It has to be functional," she claims.

Between the two of them, the Blazeks bring about 38 years of decorating experience to their business. They both worked for different companies, but now the business is truly a family affair. After the company that Harold worked for previously went out of business, his clients continued their demand for his experience so he began to work out of the home. Shortly afterwards, Marilyn joined him.

Is interior design a service exclusively reserved for the affluent? As Marilyn explains, all kinds of people come into their stores from different economic brackets. "Some are just looking to buy two lamps. Some need a lot of help, some need a little. But we mold ourselves around them. Our clients usually have very good taste. When they come in they are just looking for someone to confirm that their selections are good. They don't want to make an expensive mistake," she adds.

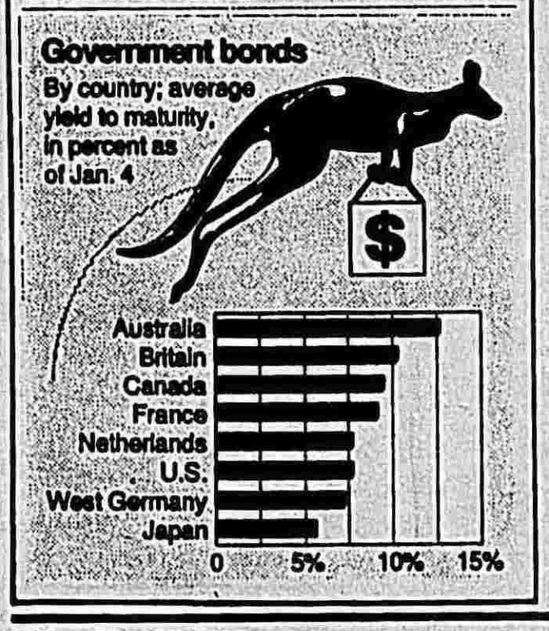

The Blazeks note that in designing the interior needs of your home, they can draw up a master plan of one room or of an entire house. However, it does not have to be completed with one lump sum. Instead, the customer can take it step-by-step, as they can afford to, with a general strategy in mind.

The Blazeks work closely with clients from beginning to end. Harold and his son Bryan (a soon-to-be electrical engineer) even personally deliver the furniture to client's homes in the company truck.

The Blazeks seem to work well together. Marilyn attributes this to the fact that both her mother and grandmother worked with their husbands, so it simply comes naturally to her. "I'm happiest when I'm working with Harold!" she adds with a smile. "We have a lot of things in common to talk about at the end of the day."

Whatever their secret is, it seems to work for them. Blazeks Home Furnishings provide a comfortable environment to plan your decorating needs in. "We try to give good service that clients can live with for years to come," explains Marilyn. "Because worse that receiving a complaint call, is never getting called again."

Business facts

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Antioch

Raymond Chevrolet & Oldsmobile in Antioch has received the Oldsmobile Citation Service Award. This marks the fourth time they have received this recognition. Of the 70 dealers in its zone, only 18 achieved the necessary standards. Twelve areas of performance are used to measure qualifications, including cars fixed right the first time, overall customer satisfaction, and quality of warranty service. Also at Raymond's, Charles Subry has been recognized by Chevrolet. Subry has earned the distinction of being the leading retail car salesperson in the Chicago Branch of Chevrolet Motor Div. for calendar year 1989. He credits his success to his long list of repeat clients and 26 years of service at Raymond Chevrolet & Oldsmobile in Antioch.

Waukegan

Officials of the Switch Division of Cherry Corp., Waukegan, have announced a program through which they will market a solid-state technology known as force sensing resistance (FSR) to their existing customers and to all-new markets. They explained that FSR technology could be used to replace piezopolymer film, conductive rubber, conventional potentiometers, membrane switches, touch pads and similar devices. The Cherry Corp. is a multi-national, multi-product developer, manufacture and marketer of proprietary and custom precision switches, electronic keyboards, displays, semiconductors and printed circuit boards serving the original equipment market. The company has manufacturing, engineering and sales management facilities in Waukegan; El Paso, Texas; E. Greenwich, R.I.; West Germany; England; France; Hong Kong and Japan.

Gurnee

Decorating Den Systems, Inc., North America's first and largest franchised interior decorating services, presented Mary Leben of Gurnee with its Ruby Van Award, the two-year membership pin in the company's exclusive Century Society, for achieving retail sales of $100,000 or more for the second straight year. Decorating Den President Jim Bugg presented the award at the company's 20th annual market conference.

Right Temporaries is celebrating its 25th year of success in the Chicagoland Area. With branch offices in Gurnee, Rte. 21 and Washington St., and Lincolnshire, 925 N. Milwaukee Ave., Right Temporaries is a leader in the temporary office help field.

Vernon Hills

The fifth annual Lake County Adult Education Community Workshop will be held from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. on Friday, May 11 at Rust-Oleum Corp., 11 Hawthorne Pkwy., Vernon Hills. The goal of this workshop is to provide a dialogue between community leaders and adult educators on the issue of adult literacy as it relates to the educational, business/industrial and human service activities in Lake County. The panel presentation will be followed by open discussion.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

reported by Brosius D'Arcy

Investments do involve risk, but they should never require unreasonable risk or gambling.

Where do penny stocks fit in this picture? A "penny stock" is issued by a company with a short or erratic history, and it typically sells for less than one dollar a share. Penny stocks often involve speculative companies involved in the exploration of oil and gas or gold-mining.

Many brokerage firms have rules against trading in these stocks. And it takes only a glance at the statistics to see why. Penny stocks cost investors at least $2 billion each year. And only 30 percent of these people have a chance of breaking even or increasing the value of their investment.

Some proposed solutions to these problems include providing customers a disciplinary history of the firm offering the stock and of the specific salesperson, providing a disclosure of the pitfalls of penny stocks, and putting more emphasis on criminal sanctions.

Regardless of sanctions, the ultimate responsbility for prudent investing is your own. If you gamble on penny stocks and lose, you have no one to blame but yourself.

Mail order firm stresses security

BY BILL SCHROEDER
Lakeland Newspapers

Theft is one of the biggest costs of doing business today in retailing and merchandising.

There's an accepted fact of life today---the bigger the store the more security measures are needed to combat shoplifting lifting by customers and pilferage by employes.

Examining loot

Security specialists have become key members of management and operations teams. One such specialist is Terry Armfield, a former detective with the Walworth County sheriff's dept. who is security manager at Gander Mountain, one of the top outdoors outfitters in the nation with headquarters at Wilmot, Wis., where the firm with more than 400 employes also maintains retail services.

Gander Mountain catalogs are known to outdoor enthusiasts and gun collectors all over the world.

Security is part of an 11 person loss prevention dept. at Gander Mountain which draws employes from a wide area of southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois.

For obvious reasons, Armfield can't talk about specific security measures. The former policeman says only that his staff is "working on problems all the time."

Both inside and outside problems encountered by a major retailer and mail order company are illustrated by two recent insidents where the Fox Lake Police Dept. cooperated in the recovery of nearly $10,000 stolen merchandise including guns, ammunition and knives.

"The Fox Lake Police Dept. did a great job. We appreciate their efforts," declared Armfield, who said the cooperation of police in neighboring communities is essential for a successful security program.

One incident involved theft of merchandise valued at nearly $2,000 by an employe who was arrested and now faces prosecution. The other incident involved an organized group of shoplifters who counterfeited purchase stickers to pass through checkers.

That the facsimile stickers were extremely crude and should have been detected only illustrates the magnitude of Armfield's job. The bogus stickers were fashioned from yellow construction paper and imprinted with ballpoint pen.

Armfield called both incidents "isolated," but examples of experiences encountered by security people.

Police Chief Ron Nagel of Fox Lake reported that the thieves in both cases were apprehended before being able to dispose of the stolen goods. A favorite method of petty thieves is to take a stolen item into a local tavern where the bartender conducts an impromptu auction and shares in the proceeds.

Editor's note: In another article, security problems in other stores in the Lakeland area will be explored.

Antioch netters shoot for third

Antioch High School's boys tennis team will be hoping to finish in the top three when North Suburban Conference teams clash in the league meet at Lake Forest May 12.

"I think we can hold onto fourth or move up to third place," Coach Frank Cittadino said.

The Sequoits reached the .500 mark but prior to the league meet at 9-9 overall, 4-4 in the NSC.

The Sequoits won two of three matches , beating Warren 4-1 and Round Lake 6-0. Antioch fell to McHenry 6-2. They then racked up a close 3-2 win over Stevenson before being shutout against Libertyville 5-0.

Winners against McHenry included the top doubles team of Eric Cittadino and Scott Hammeck with a 6-1, 6-1 win over Jim Marsh and Mike Bunting.

The second doubles also won as Jason Masek and Scott Cittadino downed Jamie Heinmiller and Mike Lazar 6-3, 6-2.

Against Warren, Chris Griffin downed Jeff Blada 7-5, 6-0 at number one. At second singles, Drew Johnson had a three-set battle with Marc Hedlund. He lost the first set 6-4 but won the next two by 6-3 scores.

In doubles, Eric Cittadino and Hammeck won over John Hanson and Rich Friend 6-2, 6-2. At second doubles, Brett Cocher and Jerod Perhach of Warren beat Brian Hovey and Warren Reginer 7-6, 6-3.

Masek and Scott Cittidino downed Ron Solum and Jim Saarela 7-6, 6-4.

Against Round Lake, Eric Cittadino bested Dave Burton at number one 6-1, 6-2; Johnson downed Fernando Sodo 7-5, 6-2; Hammeck also won in two sets, beating Jame Brubach 7-5, 6-2.

Film Review

Romeo and Juliet dramas have proven popular ever since William Shakespeare had his heroine first asking "Romeo, Romeo, wherefore art thou?"

So why not update this tried and true "love between enemies" plot and play it to the tune of the Arab/Israeli wars?

That's exactly what "Torn Apart" does with slightly better than mediocre results.

There is a an electric chemistry between stars Cecilia Peck (daughter of the well-known Gregory) and Adrian Pasdar, playing an Arab teacher and an Israeli soldier, that keeps the movie alive.

The fact that this kind of romance, set in an atmosphere of fierce fighting, almost never has a happy ending because of the various people and countries it affects, makes this flick more of a fantasy than a war story.

We'll give this one three out of five points mostly based on the electric shock-waves bandied about by Peck and Pasdar.

Video Votes

For all you Chevy Chase fans, another one of his babies has made it from the big to the little screen and will probably get a big play on the video market, "National Lampoon's Christmas Vacation."

"Limit Up," a story that's really about the Midwest Grain Market and the people that make it tick, turns out to be a lot less dry than a stock discussion, but not as frantic as the buying on the stock market floor, and funnier than expected. Star Nancy Allen sells her soul to the devil for success in the market. The video rolls on smartly from there. This is one to rent since it's one of the best videos released in awhile.

Tom Selleck fans will love "An Innocent Man" just on Selleck's he-man merits. But this is probably the best chance Selleck has had to emote dramatically and he doesn't do badly. The story is an overkill of the horrors of prison, especially for a person that was framed for the crime he was convicted of.

This one was questionable on the big screen, but it's well-worth video prices.

Bruce Willis turns in a mediocre performance in "In Country," another post Vietnam veteran's story that had a short life on the movie screen. Less than mediocre is the performance of Emily Lloyd, from England, whose country girl portrayal is sadly lacking.

TV Tidbits

For some reason, the tv moguls love to have "teenage cops" cavorting all over the boob tube, taking on their peers in unlikely stories. "Sunset Beat" is not as good as "21 Jump Street," which is just OK; and neither one matches the grandfather of all tv cop shows, "Mod Squad." Even that one was a little hokey.

Hear ye! Hear ye! 'Tis time for all the season cliffhangers. "Cheers" had a two-parter that was full of laughs. Who do you think the tycoon walked in on?

"Dallas" closes its season this week, hopefully not with another dream sequence.

Players do sinister comedy

The Kirk Players will present the sinister comedy production 'The Musical Comedy Murders of 1940' on Friday and Saturday, May 11 and 12, at 8 p.m., at the Mundelein High School Theater. From left, in rear are, Debra Meiszala, Mundelein; Royden Slade, Mundelein; Holly Weber, Mundelein; Donna Rae Pearlman, Long Grove; and Mary Jo Pippenger, Hawthorn Woods. Sitting, from left are, Marjunice Weingandt, Barrington; Floyd Baker, Vernon Hills and Russ Slade, Mundelein.

Broadway on ice at county ice arena

"A Broadway Salute to Andrew Lloyd Webber" is being proudly presented by the Kenosha County Ice Arena for its 14th Annual Ice Holidays.

Four performances are being offered over Mother's Day weekend this year. Dates and times are Friday, May 11 at 7 p.m.; Saturday, May 12 at 1:30 and 7 p.m.; and Sunday, May 13 at 3 p.m.

More than 100 Kenosha figure skaters will perform solo and group production numbers to music from Webber's popular plays, including "Cats," "Phantom of the Opera," "Starlight Express," "Evita," "Jesus Christ Superstar," and "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat."

Under the direction of head figure skating professional, Pam Hoyoss-Lechler, assisted by Denise Meyers, also Chris Payson, Becky Moon, and Shannon Petrie, this year's show is sure to be a favorite of skaters and the audience alike.

Tickets are on sale now at the Kenosha County Ice Arean, 7727-60th Ave. Advance ticket price is $3.50 for adults, $2.50 for senior citizens and children.

At the door, tickets will be $4 for adults, $3 for children and senior citizens. Group rates are also available. Call the Ice Arena for information at (414)694-8011.

Lanza slated for 'Follow' benefit show

Victor Lanza (son of Mario Lanza) will appear in a benefit concert at the Waukegan West Auditorium on May 12, at 8 p.m. Ticket prices are $6 for adults. Proceeds will benefit Carman School's Follow Through Program.

Additional information on this program is available through Gwen Beckwith at Carman School, (708-360-5472.)

This is the only opportunity to hear Lanza in Waukegan, although some of the readers may have heard him in the Choral Dynamics show on Jan. 19 and 20 at Libertyville High School or at Carmel High School's "Street Scenes" in early February.

On May 12, also appearing, will be sopranos, Donna Sadlicka, Anne Marie, Kim Murphy, in the ensemble, Swing 'N' Easy. On the piano will be Mary Ellen Martin, on drums will be John Eifert and the bass will be Bob Zaun.

Chain O'Lakes Orchestra to play in spring concert

The Chain O'Lakes community orchestra, directed by David Crane of Evanston, will present its spring concert on Sunday, May 20, at 3:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Grant High School, 285 E. Grand Ave., Fox Lake.

The theme is "Americana: 200 Years of Popular American Music." Included will be pre-American Revolution tunes, jazz, mellow and romantic 40's tunes, ragtime classic "The Sting," a Sousa march and the "Theme from E.T."

A special feature this year will be dancers accompanied by the orchestra. Cloggers will perform to an Appalachian melody and also to a more modern Country Western tune.

The Creative Arts Clogging Class is unique to this area and is being taught in Richmond by Richard and Dorothy Graton. Class members are from Round Lake, Woodstock, Genoa City, Lake Bluff and Waukegan and they vary widely in age.

Mary and Joseph Jadrich, from Fox Lake, will be dancing in costume to LeRoy Anderson's "Blue Tango." Also featured will be local area high school students who will sing selections from Broadway musicals.

Special hors d'oeuvres refreshments will be served by a local cateress. The concert is open to the public and tickets may be purchased from orchestra members or at the door.

Admission prices are $7.50 for adults, $6 for senior citizens, $5 for students 13 to 18 and $3 for children of 12 years and under. For more information, call Marilyn Lutz (708)587-7683.

College sets music recital

Barat College students Richard Faller and Kaori Minakuchi will present a Junior/Senior Student Music Recital on Saturday, May 12 at 3:30 p.m. in the Barat College Chapel. The recital will feature the musical talents of Faller on saxophone and Minakuchi on piano.

Faller, a junior from Lake Bluff, will open the program with three works for saxophone and piano. "Dix Figures a Danser" by Dubois, "Sicilienne" by P. Lantier and Handel's "Sonata No. 3" will be performed by Faller and piano accompanist Linda Larson.

Chopin's "Prelude in D-flat Major, Op. 28, No. 15," "Raindrop," will begin the second half of the recital, performed by Minakuchi, a Barat senior from Osaka, Japan.

Refreshments will be served following the recital, which is free of charge and open to the public. The Barat Chapel is located in the main building on the Barat campus, 700 E. Westleigh Rd., Lake Forest.

MAINSTREAM

It often takes a Mom to know one

by MEL BADELL
Lakeland Newspapers

Every summer we go up to my in-law's vacation home in the Northwoods of Wisconsin. It's a place we look forward, a time to make memories.

The house is set down in a small valley. As you come upon it, you see the beautiful lake it sits beside. There is a comfortable white swing that my father-in-law hung between two birch trees.

We basically go through the same routine when we arrive there. We get out of the car, stretch and breathe the fresh air. Then slowly, we walk over to the swing and sway on it remembering vacations past and what the present may hold.

Another regular feature of our arrival is my mother-in-law's welcoming face in the large lattice kitchen window. We've been coming here for seven years now. Her presence there never meant much to me before, other than an obvious greeting, until I became a mom.

Common Threads

Being a mother is difficult, (the best ones never let on). They start out by nurturing a child so closely, so continuously. They notice all of the little things. Things like when a child first rolls over, or gives them a kiss, or helps to plant some flower seeds in the garden. But children like flowers inevitably blossom - walking, talking, going to school and eventually having families of their own.

Now I understand why she waits so anxiously at the window. For one week in July my mother-in-law gets to have a little piece of her son back. A chance to have him in her home again, leaving his stuff scattered around like he did back when. A chance to get a good look at him and hug or squeeze him for more than the few hours that she usually gets on the occasional Sunday visits.

The week always passes by quickly. As we leave each year we hug "mom" and "dad" and thank them for the stay. I begin the climb up the stairs to pack the car. Slowly, my mother-in-law assumes her position in the window again. Only this time she is waving goodbye. I look at her through the glass and smile as our eyes meet. She is giving me good training. She's very gracious at letting go.

Sometimes when I glance back, I see myself in the window years from now, enjoying whatever little things come my way.

Many moms will probably be looking out their window years from now, enjoying whatever little things come my way.

Many moms will probably be looking out their windows this Sunday morning, hoping that their sons and daughters will share a little something with them - a hug, themselves

Sunday, moms will be celebrated everywhere. We'll take them out to brunch, give them a corsage or a potted plant and wish them a "Happy Mother's Day." As trivial as that seems for all they've done, it will be enough. Small gestures are large in a mother's eyes.

The best moms seem to know that life is just made up of small precious moments. So if you're fortunate enough to have her still around, enjoy this Sunday with your mom. It's these little moments she gets, that make the hard ones worthwhile.

She's veteran equestrian at the early age of four

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Four-year-old Angela Ellis of Zion hardly outweighs the saddle on her show horse Swift Winds, as she takes the 28-year-old Appaloosa through his paces in horse shows every weekend.

Dad: 'She wasn't afraid even at two. She took to riding right away. Now she practices four times a week and takes Swift Winds through his paces at horse shows every weekend."

Angela's Mom and Dad, Steve and Vicki Ellis, are veteran riders that have made Angela one of the youngest show riders in the area, maybe in many areas.

Dad placed Angela in the saddle at the age of two, as she climbed aboard his horse, riding with him until she got used to the feel of the saddle.

She then went to her own pony which Dad guided with a lead rope.

At three, she and Swift Winds became a twosome and now she rides in horse shows almost every weekend, garnering a raft of prizes.

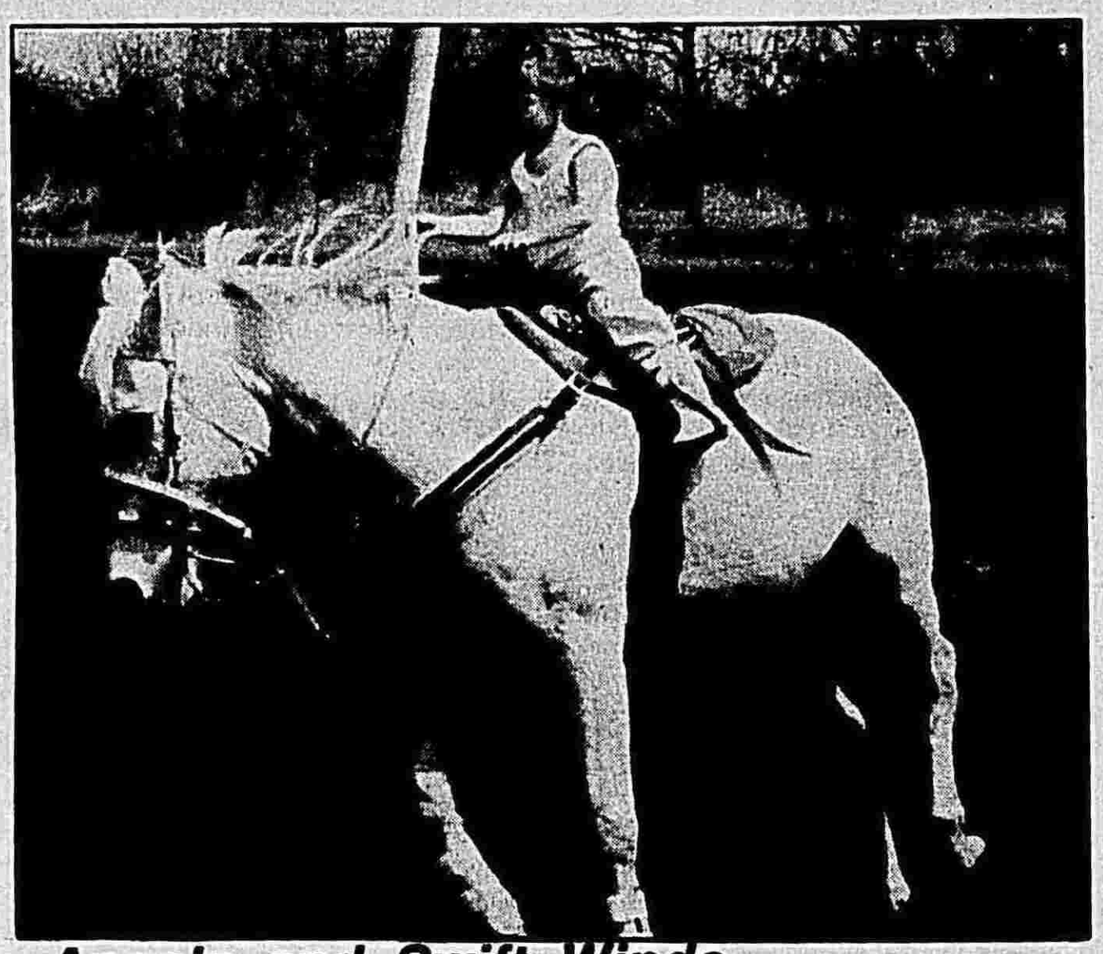

Last weekend, Angela and Swift Winds took one fifth and two sixth place ribbons at the Diamond G Horse Show in Rockford.

She practices on Swift Winds three or four times a week for an hour at a time to get her balance and keep the horse in shape.

But the fun of barrel racing and pole bending is only part of being a horsewoman, as Angela has learned from her Dad.

She also helps tend to her good four-legged friend by brushing and feeding him.

After a summer of horseback riding, little Angela will be taking on another challenge when she starts kindergarten in September. She might be sightly ahead of her classmates in certain respects since she has already learned concentration and responsibility mixed with a lot of stick-to-it-iveness.

Angela and Swift Winds

Little Angela Ellis of Zion, who at four-years-old is a veteran horsewoman, takes her show horse Swift Winds through his paces at horse shows all around the northern Illinois area every weekend. Her instructors and mentors are her parents Steve and Vicki Ellis who had Angela in the saddle when she was two-years-old.

Hawaii's Historic Coco Palms Resort

by JIM WARNKEN
PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Temples dating back to 5,000 years before the birth of Christ. Unexplainable "cart tracks" leading into the sea. Prehistoric cave-like tombs. Miles of catacombs from Roman times. Where is this fascinating land?

It's an island in the Mediterranean about 60 miles south of Sicily. It's called Malta.

You say you haven't heard of Malta? Ever heard of the Maltese Falcon from the old Bogart movies? Then there's the Maltese cross which, for some reason, is popular among bikers. (The falcon was a token payment for the use of the island as a home for the knights of the Order of St. John, the cross was the symbol of the knights with its eight points representing the eight homelands of the Order.)

Students of the Bible will know that St. Paul speaks of his experiences after being shipwrecked on Malta. His preaching has caused Malta to remain a Catholic country to this day.

But does Malta have white sand beaches and sunny skies? Sure. In fact, it is a top vacation spot for the Europeans though still relatively unknown to most Americans.

However, it's not the beaches or the climate that attracted me to Malta. Instead, it's Malta's rich and colorful history which is everywhere on the island.

The government buildings in use today date back to the 14th Century. Life in walled cities a thousand years old is as it was in 900 A.D. For 35 cents, a Maltese family will let you tour some catacombs they discovered while digging a cistern under their house.

Due to its strategic location, Malta has been inhabited by many nationalities throughout history. Each has left some remembrance. My stay in Malta was more educational than Mrs. Toppings' history class at Steinmetz H.S. ever was!

A trip to Malta would be a worthwhile addition to any European vacation.

EYE CARE
News, Views & Questions About Your Eyes
By
Robert L. Epstein, M.D., Director
Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery

QUESTION: What is meant by "Single-stitch" cataract surgery?
ANSWER: During cataract surgery, the eye's natural lens, which has become cloudy, is removed. Most frequently, the focusing function of the natural lens is replaced with a small, plastic lens implanted in the eye during the surgery. This procedure requires only a very small incision through which a tiny ultra-sound wand is inserted to "pulverize" and vacuum out the cataract. Then a flexible plastic lens is folded in half, inserted into the eye, unfolded and put in place. The incision is small enough to be closed with a single surgical stitch.

If you are are considering having a cataract removed consult your ophthalmologist to determine if this surgical technique is appropriate for you.

Mom Likes To Cook

By Randee Rian

and thanks for all the ways you helped me grow. You've always seemed to know just what I needed, and you'll always have a special place in my heart and in my life. Enjoy your day, Mom.

And, if you should feel like cooking, these recipes look good. If not, we'll take you out...Love.

Apricot-glazed Cornish hens

An elegant and yet easy main dish for that special occasion. The apricot glaze gives the little birds wonderful color and flavor. The rice-cashew-green onion mixture is perfection. Try.

3/4 cup apricot preserves
2 tsp. grated orange rind
2 Tbl. orange juice
4 Cornish hens
1/4 tsp. paprika
1/2 cup cashews
2 Tbl. butter, melted
1/2 cup sliced green onions
1 (6-oz.) package long grain and wild rice
2 1/3 cup chicken broth
spinach leaves
Dried apricot roses (optional)

Combine apricot preserves, orange rind and orange juice; set aside. Remove giblets from hens; reserve for other uses. Rinse hens with cold water, and pat dry. Close cavities, and secure with wooden picks; truss. Sprinkle with paprika. Place hens, breast side up, in a lightly greased roasting pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 hours, basting frequently with about 1/2 cup apricot mixture during the last 30 minutes.

Saute cashews in butter in a large skillet until cashews are golden. Drain cashews and set aside, reserving butter in skillet. Saute green onions in same skillet until tender. Add rice mix and prepare according to package directions, substituting chicken broth for water and omitting salt.

Arrange hens on serving platter; brush with remaining apricot mixture. Garnish with apricot roses and spinach leaves, if desired, and serve with rice.

Note: To make apricot roses and garnishing, use a rolling pin to flatten four to five dried apricots for each rose. Wrap apricots around each other, shaping them to resemble a rose; pinch stem end to make them adhere.

Serves Mom and three friends.

Sweet potato biscuits

Nothing warms the soul like the steam rising out of a hot-from-the-oven biscuit just opened for a generous pat of butter.

2 cup self-rising flour
1/4 cup sugar
3 Tbl. shortening
2 Tbl. butter, softened
1 cup cooked, mashed sweet potatoes (about 1 large sweet potato)
1/3 cup milk

Combine flour and sugar in a medium bowl; cut in shortening and butter with a pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add mashed sweet potatoes and milk, stirring just until dry ingredients are moistened. Turn dough out onto a lightly floured surface; knead 4 to 5 times.

Roll dough to 1/2-inch thickness; cut with a 2-inch biscuit cutter. Place on lightly greased baking sheets. Bake at 400 degrees for 15 minutes or until golden brown.

Makes 1 1/2 dozen.

Old-fashioned pear spice cake

Chunks of juicy pear go into this very moist spice cake.

1 1/2 cup each sugar and salad oil
2 tsp. each baking powder, soda and ground cinnamon
1/2 tsp. each ground ginger and salt
2 cups flour
4 eggs
3 medium-size firm ripe pears (about 1 3/4 lbs.)
1/2 cup chopped almonds or walnuts
cream cheese frosting

In a large mixer bowl, combine the sugar, oil, baking powder, soda, cinnamon, ginger, salt and flour. Beat on medium-high speed for 5 minutes. Beat in eggs, 1 at a time.

Peel and core pears and cut 1/2-inch chunks. By hand, fold pears and nuts into batter. Spoon into an ungreased 9 by 13-inch glass baking dish. Bake in a 325 degree oven until a wooden pick inserted into center comes out clean,

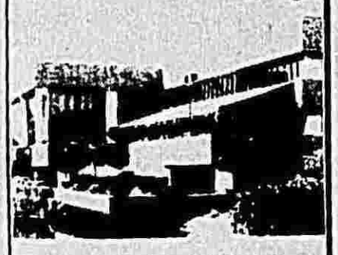

Extension auction

A benefit antique and collectable auction, sponsored by the Lake County Homemakers Extension Assn., is set for May 12, at Camp Duncan YMCA on Rte. 12, north of Rte. 120, near Volo. Getting ready for the auction are, from left, Bill Obenauf, auctioneer, Catherine Gourley, co-chairwoman, Maru Lester, co-chairwoman and Lee Neuroth, auctioneer's partner.

Garden success isn't a matter of luck

Nervous about growing flowers? Relax. The vast majority of people have "green thumbs." Success in the garden isn't just a matter of luck, but the result of taking a few easy steps along the way.

Location, soil condition, light, shade, and water run-off are all part of the planning and on-going care. The reward is a yard full of colorful beauty, well worth the time and effort you invest in preparation, planting and maintenance.

As one prepares, don't forget about the view from inside to the outside, and how the spread of flowers will appear from that angle. Look into whether or not you have the room and growing conditions for displays outside the most popular rooms of your home—breakfast room, study, family room, etc.

To make a real impact on the landscape, select a bounty of seeds or bedding plants. And the best way to ensure that your making the right decisions is by getting some professional advice from your local retail nursery/garden center.

Liquid Manure Recipe

Liquid manure is made by tying a bushel of fresh cow or chicken manure in a burlap bag and steeping it in a 50-gallon barrel of water for a few days. Dilute the water (liquid) from the barrel until it is a light amber color and pour it in generous amounts along the vegetable row.

Vegetable landscaping is ideal

Gardeners and gourmet cooks alike can benefit from growing plants which tastes as good as they look. Landscaping with vegetables is ideal because these edible plants are as easy to grow as flowers and can be just as lovely. The lush, green vegetation will make a pretty sight all season long while the leaves, blossoms and fruits add color and texture to the yard and dinner table.

Revered as one of the best sources of vitamins, home grown vegetables are healthier and tastier than supermarket varieties because they can be picked at the peak of freshness and homeowners can avoid the harmful pesticides and chemicals used by commercial growers.

Sunlight and good soil are essential ingredients for a healthy garden. Ensure a bountiful harvest by choosing a site which received about seven hours of sunlight a day and by properly preparing the soil to provide vegetables with a hospitable growth environment.

Vegetables require earth which consists of at lease one-third organic material, such as Canadian Sphagnum Peat Moss. This all-natural soil conditioner binds sandy soils to prevent the leaching of water and nutrients and it loosens clay soils for better drainage and root penetration. It can retain 20 times it weight in water and will slowly release water and stored nutrients to the roots. Canadian Peat's predictable pH level of 3.4 to 4. 8 is also beneficial because vegetables prefer a moderately acidic garden bed.

For best results, moisten the Canadian Peat overnight to activate its sponge-like capabilities. Simply bring the bale to the planting site, open it at the stapled end or slice it at the top, and soak the contents with a garden hose. Start the planting process by digging out the garden bed to a depth of 12 inches. Shovel the backfill dirt onto a trap to make soil preparation and cleanup easier. Break up the clods of dirt and remove rocks, roots, weeds and other undesirable materials. Then mix in a ratio of one-third to one-half moistened Canadian Peat, depending on the type of soil--sandy, clay or depleted.

While using a water-retentive soil amendment will cut down on the number of times plants need to be watered, it is important to give the garden a deep, penetrating soaking when insufficient rainfall leaves the ground dry to the touch. Mornings are the best time to water. Adding nutrients to the soil, such as an organic fertilizer, is also recommended.

For an instant garden, buy inexpensive transplants from the nursery or start seeds indoors. When getting ready to plant, take note of each vegetable's expected size and the time of season it will bear fruit. Make every inch of the garden count by interplanting tall with low-growing, and quick with slow-growing vegetables. A wide selection of varieties of plants, such as the following, will also

Lifestyle changes have direct effect on gardening concepts

As our lifestyles have changed, so have our concepts of gardens. We no longer have to have a 200-square-foot garden to be considered a serious gardener.

In fact, gardens are popping up in the most unlikely places, in pots and baskets on balconies, as well as in tubs and boxes on rooftops.

Many plants do well in small spaces or in containers. Plants grow just as well in groups of two as they do in groups of 20, with sweet corn being the exception. Growing a garden in containers has several advantages:

- you need only a small space in the landscape.
- it is easier to maintain because there is less space for weeds.
- you can move the plants or place them at any height.
- if you live in an area with poor soil, you can fill the containers with good potting soil.
- seeds can be sown indoors in permanent containers and then moved outdoors when the time is right.
- container gardens can be decorative, as well as useful. For instance, mixing flowers, herbs and vegetables in containers can provide a beautiful display all summer long.

Containers such as pots, metal tubs, baskets, boxes, hanging baskets or sewer tiles should be well-drained and must provide space for enough fertile solid for the plants. For instance dwarf tomatoes and peppers need at least one to two gallons of soil per plant. Large tomato plants, cucumbers and eggplants require at least five gallons per plant. Lettuce, radishes and most herb plants (parsley or chives, for instance) will grow in much small containers, such as 10-inch flower pots.

Regardless of the location, patio, balcony, rooftop or areas in the landscape, containerized plants must have plenty of light, fertilizer, water and air. Because the soil and roots are restricted, plants will have to be watered and fertilized more often.

Give grass clippings back to your lawn

Homeowners will soon be unable to give their grass clippings to the garbage man, it's time they start giving the clippings back to the lawn.

The weekly contest to see who has the most bags of grass clippings on the curb each week should come to a screeching halt, and that's a good thing. Throwing out this valuable organic matter just doesn't make sense.

Four main reasons why it is a good idea to leave grass clipping on the ground are:

•Clippings contain fertilizer elements, which are used by plants.

•Recycling nutrients reduces the need for fertilizer applications.

•Clippings are made of organic compounds, which are needed by soil organisms to improve the tilth, or condition of the soil.

•Disposing of grass clippings takes up precious space in landfills.

There is no need to collect grass clippings because clippings do not cause thatch. When a lawn is mowed frequently enough that only the top one-third to one-fourth of the blades are removed, the clippings filter down to the soil.

Clippings serve as food for soil organisms such as earthworms, enabling them to multiply. The worms, in turn, release the organic matter back into the soil, improving soil structure and helping to reduce soil compaction.

Also, as bacteria and fungi digest clippings, they release nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium for re-use by the lawn. What's more, these creatures tend to cement clay particles together, improving soil tilth.

Added organic matter in the soil even improves the ability of the soil to provide moisture during a drought. The grass does not wilt as quickly.

For best results grass should be kept 2 1/2 inches high and mowed before it reaches 3 1/2 to 4 inches tall. If the grass should get too tall, mow it as usual and allow the clippings to dry for day or so. Then mow again to chop them up and enable them to fall into the lawn. If you do not chop up heavy amounts of grass clippings, it is not only unsightly, but it could damage the lawn.

If accumulated grass roots and rhizomes do produce a layer of thatch more than 1/4 inch deep beneath the grass you should "core aerify." This process removes cores about every two inches in the lawn.

If you "core aerify" several times, you will eventually eliminate the thatch without damaging the lawn.

make the garden more beautiful.

Asparagus: showing up in dishes ranging from pasta to soup, spears of this easy-to-plant veggie will begin to appear in early spring and continue into early summer. Mature fronds are fern-like, with red berries, and can be added to floral arrangements.

Beans: a staple for any garden, beans come in endless varieties which can be grown on a pole or trellis.

Chamomile, Roman: this fast growing perennial groundcover bears tiny, fragrant flowers which can be eaten and used for making tea once in full bloom. Sprigs of this herb can be eaten as a seasoning, like the bay leaf.

Spearmint: an aromatic creeping groundcover which has pear-shaped purple flowers in summer and grows 1 to 2 feet all. The edible leaves are high in vitamins A and C and can be added to summer favorites such as lemonade.

Kale: these leafy greens are sprouting up everywhere, especially because the National Cancer Institute recommends them for their carotonoids, which may reduce the risk of some forms of cancer. They also have vitamin C, calcium, potassium and fiber.

Chives: this onion-like herb has beautiful purple flowers Its grasslike stalks grow in dense clumps about eight inches long. Perfect for adding zing to an endless array of recipes, chives can be used fresh, dried or frozen, and the flowers can garnish salads. Chives are perennial, so they will come back year after year.

Squash: an old summer stand-by, squash comes in all kinds of shapes, sizes and colors, each with their own set of culinary uses.

Who Left Us March 29, 1989

You could bid no one a last farewell, not every say goodbye.
You were gone before we know,
and only God knows why.
They say time heals all sorrow,
but we will never forget,
And time so far has only proved,
how much we miss you yet.
Many times we've though of you,
many times we've cried.
If LOVE alone could have saved you,
you never would have died.
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we love you still.
It broke our hearts to lose you,
but you did not go alone.
Part of us went with you,
the day God took you home.

GARAGE: 701 square feet
COVERAGE: 2186 square feet

FLOOR PLAN
PLAN Nº 330-71

330-71 DAHLIA 1
By Landmark Designs
05-06-90

The master suite has all the amenities, including a double walk-in closet and an oversized tub, which could just as easily be a spa, in its own special cubicle. The room also accesses the deck which stretches along the entire back width of the house.

There's room for everything in the family room: a home entertainment center, desk, computer, couches and chairs, a table. Whatever suits your fancy. If desired, a fireplace could also be included here. Situating it on the right wall, adjacent to the master suite, would offer the option of using the same chimney and adding the coziness of a crackling fire to the master suite as well.

Utilities, including extra counter space, two walls of storage cupboards and a utility sink, are close to the bedrooms and kitchen. And for those who like to try to fix things before they call the repair man, there's room in the garage for a small shop along with plenty of storage space.

For a study plan of the DAHLIA 1 (330-71), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

by Charles King Cooper

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You may surprise somebody with a gift. Short trips are quite pleasant, and your optimistic manner will attract benefits. You'll help others in unseen ways now, perhaps through a good word or even financial assistance. You'll find social life also is fulfilling.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Before joining others for good times, you'll want to get a backlog of work out of the way. Then you'll be able to celebrate happily. A friend may give you a confidential tip about a career matter. Social life is active, but you'll also want to enjoy some privacy.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Travel has career ramifications as well as social benefits. Others are kindly disposed toward you and you should have happy times. Whether business or pleasure is your goal now, you'll have success with both. You'll find meaningful ways to improve joint security.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Put the final touches on a work project, then follow a friend's suggestion and have a good time. Distant interests go well. Hobbies and romance are on your agenda, yet you may hear of a good career opportunity. Discuss joint moves with those close to you.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A working mood prevails this week. Make it a point to try something different and innovative. A family member would like to join you on an outing. Your enthusiasm — plus good news about a special project — will keep you working overtime.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Take the opinions of others into consideration before making unusual domestic changes. Channel nervous energy into mental work. You have wonderful new ideas, but may have difficulty in convincing a relative of their merit. Slow down and try to be patient.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Shopping and recreational activities highlight this week. You'll be busy following through on domestic plans. Take time out to relax. After much gadding about, you'll enjoy home-based interests. Unexpected news comes from a relative. Company looms on the horizon.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Avoid risky financial schemes. New electronic gadgetry appeals to you. You may change your mind about a recent purchase. Don't go off on unreasonable tangents. The behavior of close friends may surprise you. Safeguard possessions from loss or breakage.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You have good insight now, but avoid making radical changes based on the idea of the moment. Do your best to remain objective. New friends stimulate you mentally, but the idiosyncrasies of one of them could annoy you. Try to take the good with the bad.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You'll get opinions pro and con regarding a new career venture. One friend may not follow through on a commitment. Be flexible. Originality is to the fore, but refrain from making offbeat career moves. Unexpected developments require mental flexibility.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Ponder joint financial moves carefully, especially those that involve the unfamiliar. Others are liable to change their minds. Spur-of-the-moment trips may drain finances. Put some of your restlessness into constructive mental pursuits. Make use of creative talents.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A sudden development could cause a temporary change of plans. Pay close attention to your inventive nature. It demands expression. New hobbies are worth undertaking, providing no risks to health are involved. Work performance may be erratic or output uneven.

Temporary job outlook strong

by PAT CHRISTENSEN
Lakeland Newspapers

The top three temporary employment agencies in the U.S. these days are Manpower, with sales totalling $3.5 billion, Kelly, with $1.3 billion in sales and Aida, Olsten and Norelle with individual sales right around the $500 million mark. There are a small cluster of other agencies, all at pretty much the same level, fighting it out for market shares, but these five are the giants in the industry right now.

But competition among agencies is stiff, and some of the top names in the business are battling it out with sales figures that are astronomically higher than they were just six or ten years ago.

According to Jim Erickson a Job Club instructor for the Private Industry Council (PIC) of Lake County, temporary employment agencies can be a trap for some job hunters. "You're glued to the phone, basically, with a lot of these agencies," he said. Temporary agencies want you to be available if they should call, but if you want anything permanent you may need to be out looking."

Some agencies, admits Chuck Bartels, a franchise manager for Manpower, only process applicants. "They just introduce applicants to employers and that's it," he said. He sees these services as something akin to a matchmaking service.

Bartels also said that due to a change in the law, any employee of more than 30 days is liable for all previous unemployment. This, he says, is one reason why so many employers come to places like Manpower, which hire the employees directly.

Bartels, Erickson and others in the job services field all have basically the same outlook on the market. "There is a fierce competition for places in the temporary field," said Erickson. "It is very much a part of the American business scheme of things and it offers a lot of flexibility."

Bartels sees a great deal of flexibility for employers as well as temporary employees. "In Lake County the job market turns over frequently. The younger workers are looking for experience in a temporary situation. They want to build a resume or pay their way through school. School teachers come in looking for summer employment, as do other seasonal workers." Older workers, also, in greater numbers than ever before are turning to temporary employment agencies as one avenue back into the job market.

"In Lake County the numbers continue to be good," Bartels said of the job openings available to temporary workers. We do best in an atmosphere of positive uncertainty, when no one is sure what will happen in the future, but everyone is hopeful enough to start new projects"

He said that many employers are becoming unable to digest part-time workers, and so they are maintaining a core group of permanent, full-time employees and then hiring a contingency group of temporary employees on an as-needed basis. This provides a company with great flexibility.

Right now the service industry is the single largest growth industry. Among the companies that hire a great many temporary workers at the present are the census bureau, the U.S. government and several of the larger Lake County employers such as Abbott Laboratories, Johnson Outboard, and Baxter Labs.

It should be noted that there is a hiring freeze on for federal governmental jobs. In addition, many large companies have the reputation of hiring people in large numbers, then laying them off and re-hiring them on a frequent basis.

Still, Erickson points out, for someone entering the job market, and even the temporary field, in Lake County, "now is the ideal time to do it."

This may be the single most important factor of all in the Lake County temporary job market today.

Steady Increase

Analysis of employment need in the SDA revealed that Lake County has and is experiencing a small but steady increase in growth of all industries. The major growth, creating jobs, has been in the wholesale trade; retail trade; financial, insurance and real estate trade; and the service industry. Manufacturing is experiencing small but steady growth and is creating a small demand for manufacturing assembly line positions.

Council to explore need for new facility

All arts organizations and individual artists are being invited to attend one of two meetings on Monday, May 14, 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. or Tuesday, May 15, 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. at the College of Lake County, Rm. C-002. The Lake County Arts Council has undertaken a needs assessment study for cultural facilities in the county. These two meetings are designed for all Lake County arts organizations and artists to provide the Lake County Arts Council with information regarding their facilities and their needs for facilities in the future.

Through a grant from the Illinois Arts Council's Building By Design program and additional support from the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., the Lake County Arts Council has retained Arts Development Associates, a consulting firm based in Minneapolis, Minn. to conduct the study. This study is a direct follow up to a preliminary needs assessment conducted by the Lake County Arts Council in 1987. The consultants will work under the guidance of a special task force appointed for this project. The task force is made up of members of the Arts Council Board of Directors and other representative from the community.

The May 14 and 15 meetings will begin with a presentation about the study by the consultants. The participating arts organizations and artists will then be asked to complete a facilities inventory form which will include questions about the needs for rehearsal, auditorium, gallery, office and studio space as well as other miscellaneous spaces.

"It is very important that all arts organizations and artists attend one of these meetings even if they do not forsee any need for space in the future. All of the information obtained in these inventory meetings will help Arts Development Associates in their assessment of existing and future needs for cultural facilities," said Ed Snyder, president of the Lake County Arts Council and a co-chair of the Cultural Facilities Needs Assessment Task Force.

For more information regarding these meetings for arts organizations and artists, contact Ed Snyder at (708)223-6601, ext. 287 or Task Force Co-Chair Diane Douglas at (708)367-0707.

Libertyville tracksters finish second at county

Libertyville's boys track and field team is expected to be the favorite for the May 12 North Suburban Conference meet at Antioch.

The Wildcats are coming off a Lake County meet which saw them lead in the early going, only to be caught and passed by champion Waukegan West. West won top honors 133 to Libertyville's 110 points.

Libertyville Coach Bill Dortch was pleased with his team's second-place showing. The Wildcats will have another shot at Waukegan West at the sectional meet in two weeks.

Libertyville's top performances came from the 4,200 and 3,200 meter relay teams, which finished second to Antioch and West, respectively. Josh Nardo gained a first place in the 100 meter high hurdles and Scott Miller gave Libertyville a 10-point, first-place finish in the 300 meter high hurdles.

Libertyville standout Russ Bora was edged by West's Russ McDonald 10.8 to 10.6 in the 100 meter dash.Lake Forest and Stevenson battled it out for fourth place with the Pats winning 40-32. Highlights included Pat Joyce of Stevenson finishing second behind Chris Brown of Libertyville in the 3,200 meter run. Stevenson's 800 meter relay team also earned second place.

Antioch Coach Norm Hahn is hoping to use the home field advantage to move up to a possible third-place finish.

"I think we can score in 15 of the 18 events," Hahn said.

The Sequoits, running the morning after prom, finished in eighth place with 25 points. Hahn pointed to Ryan Shea's second-place finish in the discus as a positive from the NSC meet.

Carmel had 31 points, good enough for sixth place. Sean Ryan's second-place finish in the 400 meter run was the highlight as well as the third-place finish by the 3,200 meter relay team.

Despite fielding what Coach Amos Jones calls a "young team", North Chicago was right behind Carmel with 29 points. Ozzie Young, a junior, finished second in the long jump at 21-7.

The Northwest Suburban Conference schools will return to Lake Zurich May 12 for their conference meet. The host-Bears scored 19 points, good enough for 10th place at county. Brian Yrigoyen led in the 800 meter run before being caught by Waukegan West's Jason Hardy. His second-place finish was the best for the home team. Jamie Pender was third in the 100 meter high hurdles with a 15.1.

Experience helps MHS gain sectional crown

What's the best way to prepare for a sectional meet?

According to Mundelein High School gymnasts, the best way could be to win a state title. For last year's state championship may have paid dividends as the Mustangs aimed for the Barrington sectional title Saturday night.

"Most of the kids competed last year and that gave them an edge as far as experience," Coach Doug Foerch said.

Mundelein's mentor said he was "quite pleased" with his team's score of 158.2, topping second-place Hersey's 147.75. Niles West, Fremd and Buffalo Grove rounded out the team standings at Barrington High.

The Mustangs, who had earlier won their own regional, now will defend their state championship at Forest View Educational Center May 11 and 12. Foerch said he plans no major changes in strategy.

"If there is any change, it will be for the finals," Foerch said.

The coach had high praise for the efforts of Jeff Turnbull and James Gonzalez.

Turnbull, coming off a season plagued by injuries, was second in the all-around behind T.J. Dortch with a score of 52.2. Gonzalez, a senior, was fourth for the Mustangs in the event.

"Jim really came through," Foerch said, noting his score of 49.6 was a season best.

Dortch claimed first place finishes for MHS in the still rings, tied for first in vaulting, and was first in the all-around and parallel bars.

Jason Korbeck gained a first for Mundelein in the pommel horse and Turnbull was second and Dortch third.

Foerch said Glenbard East could give his team a challenge. He said the squad is after a team goal of 160 points.

Grayslake High sets run fun

Grayslake Community High School is planning the first Grayslake cross country run for May 19.

The event will be on the track at GCHS at 10 a.m. with a one-mile run for girls, grades six and seven.

Sixth and seventh grade boys will run one mile at 10:20 a.m. Other races include girls, one and one-half mile at 11 a.m.; eighth grade boys, one and one-half mile race at 11:30 a.m.

Olympic style medals will be awarded for the top three finishers in the race. All runners will receive a ribbon and a certificate of participation. The entry fee is $3 and entry forms are available at all Grayslake schools. Entries will be accepted on race day.

Lambs host power boaters

Power boat racing will come to Lambs Farm in Libertyville on Sunday, May 20 at 10 a.m.

More than 40 radio-controlled power boats up to two feet long will race at speeds of 30 to 60 MPH on Lambs Lake. National speed record holders from Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Wisconsin will compete for trophies and merchandise.

The model boat races are sponsored by the Minute Breakers Radio Control Model Boat Club. Between races, spectators can visit the Lambs Country Shops which include the Country Designs Card and Gift Shop, a pet shop, Children's Farmyard and Petting Zoo, the Lambs End Thrift Shop. the Country Inn restaurant, Sweet Street Old-Fashioned Ice Cream Parlour and miniature golf course.

The Lambs, a non-for-profit residential and vocational community for mentally retarded adults, is located at the junction of I-94 and Rte. 176 in Libertyville. Admission and parking are free. For more information, call the Lambs special events hotline at (708) 362-6774.

Lancers top Oakton, gain Region IV tourney spot

The College of Lake County baseball team was fighting history Tuesday afternoon.

History wore the jersey of Oakton's Red Raiders. The situation: CLC needed just one win over Oakton to advance to the state finals in Region IV. But that's just the position Coach Gene Hanson's team found itself in last year, but CLC fell and Oakton went on.

Oakton battled all the way to the ninth inning, and it was not until pitcher Brad Dodge forced a double play that the CLC side began to celebrate with a 39-10 record. When the final Oakton batter grounded out, Hanson received a Bill Parcels-style dunking of water from jubiliant players.

"I wasn't really worried because I knew we could score a couple of more runs," Hanson said of Oakton tieing the game 10-10 in the seventh.

Dodge was two-for-five at the plate and his home run set a school record for four baggers at 61.

CLC, which plays DuPage May 12 at Kankakee College, comes into the state tournament with pitching as a strength, according to Hanson. Ledinsky, 8-1, will pitch in the tournament opener.

The tourney started with two lopsided wins as CLC bounced Elgin 8-1 Sunday behind Ledinsky. Antioch grad Dan Grote picked up his sixth straight win, this one in relief, as CLC topped Oakton 13-4 in the second tourney game.

Kankakee ousts Lancers from softball tournament

The revised post-season softball tournament started just fine as far as the College of Lake County's squad was concerned.

Although scheduled to be played at CLC, the Lancers swept Harper in Palatine. But that's when the post-season fun started.

Softball did away with the sectional format this year in order to go to all-regional style. That left CLC to play Kankakee in a doubleheader Tuesday.

The Lancers left in plenty of time for the game, 8:30 a.m. But construction delays, not told to the CLC contingent, and a rushed start left some bitterness for the visitors. The Lancers fell 4-1. despite a strong three-for-three game from Stacy Pohlman and two-for-three from Sue Quilty.

But the second game is when disaster struck.

In the second inning with CLC tied with Kankakee 2-2, shortstop Kim McDonald was injured sliding. That, coupled with the fact three other Lancers were slightly injured in an automobile accident earlier in the week, took its tool as CLC was eliminated 10-2.

Earlier against Harper, Quilty picked up the win in a 12-4 victory. The two teams were tied at 4-4 in the fifth inning, but CLC came up with eight runs to make the eight-run rule. Quilty scattered five Hawks hits.

Kelly Gust was the winning pitcher in the second game, a 10-3 win. Karen Gust had a four-for-five day with five RBIs, Andrea True was two-for-two and Shannon Stanek was two-for-three.

CLC is hosting the regional at Softball City in Hainesville this weekend.

CLC finished the season with a 22-23 record, with a highlight a championship at the Marquette tournament.

"I thought we would have done better than we did," Coach Sue Garcia said.

The Lancers, though, can count on most players returning as sophomores next spring.

Carmel, Joliet C. clash for command in league

Carmel baseball Coach Chuck Gandolfi knows about how important the games will be.

"It will be a crucial doubleheader," the mentor said. "The winner will be in the driver's seat."

Carmel will be traveling to Joliet Catholic for a battle against the unbeaten East Suburban Conference leaders May 12. Carmel is 6-1 in the league after a 9-4 win over St. Viator Monday.

Pitcher Eric Maloney threw a perfect game for five innings to give Carmel a cushion. Carmel led 4-2, then expanded the margin to 9-2.

Maloney, who is hitting over .600 for the Corsairs, went three-for-four and Chris Splitt, batting .400, went three-for-three. Dan Devito went two-for-four with two RBIs.

Jim Cooney pitched in relief.

Carmel was scheduled to battle St. Joseph but was rained out last Saturday. Those games are slated to be made up May 10 and 14.

Mustangs start new win streak in league

Mundelein High School's softball team started a new winning streak Saturday.

Yes, a new win streak, as the old one in the North Suburban Conference - 57 games - was stopped by Lake Forest with a 6-5 win. The Mustangs took out their frustrations with a 14-8 win in the second game.

"You have to give credit to Lake Forest," Mundelein Coach Jim deRivera said.

The Mustangs, seeing their multi-year league win streak in jeopardy, tried to rally in the seventh inning. Behind 6-2, the visitors did garner three more runs before losing 6-5. Two runners were left on base in the inning.

"It was more our pitching than their hitting," deRivera said.

Mundelein starter Lynette Kowalke, who won the second game, gave up 11 walks and four wild pitches. "The walks really came back to haunt us," deRivera said.

Mundelein did receive strong hitting games from Terilyn Starkey, who had a triple; Ashley Struggles, who was two-for-four with a double as was Sharon DeHart.

The coach praised the team's character for bouncing back in game two. The split game MHS an 11-1 NSC record, 16-4 overall.

DeHart continued her strong day at the plate in the second game, going four-four-four with two RBIs. Starkey had a two-for-five including two extra-base hits; Pam Wiesner was two-for-five with three RBIs and Demi Micheleau and Donna Deal had two hits in the 16-hit attack.

Mundelein, which battles Fenton in a doubleheader May 12, did not start Kowalke. Kowalke came on in the second inning and earned her 13th win.

Olejcak's big triple sinks Carmel hopes

Warren Twp. High School softball player Heather Olejcak knows when the dramatics may be necessary.

Last week against Carmel, Olejcak provided just that. In the sixth inning with the score tied 4-4, Olejcak blasted a Jenny Kolacz's 1-0 pitch to left center to decide the non-conference game.

During most at-bats, the hit would have "definitely" been a home run according to Warren Coach Linda Jeffrey, but Jeffrey held Olejcak up at third base, because of a leg injury. The game at Viking Park in Gurnee was the first since the all-conference catcher had been playing in since she injured a leg against Antioch two weeks before.

Warren led early in the contest, scoring three runs in the first inning on a double by Rebecca Yukina and singles by Jenny Pulaski and Tina Blankley.

But Carmel, where Jeffrey called home for two seasons as softball coach, battled back. Nicole Eigner contributed a two-run triple and Stephanie Seier had a RBI single.

Warren's sixth inning started with walks to Blankley and Michelle McGrath. After an out, Olejcak, a Wildwood resident, belted her triple. She scored as Yukina then singled.

"It was nice to see a few hits in a row," Jeffrey, whose team improved to 6-5 overall, said.

During the injury, Olejcak coached first base and swam laps as well as used whirlpool treatment under direction of Warren trainer Mark Pos.

The Corsairs, who fell 2-0 St. Viator the day before, had suffered the six-inning blues for the second straight time. The Lions also scored their winning runs in that frame.

Carmel bounced back to improved to 6-8 overall as they took their frustrations out on Mother Guerin 10-0.

Kris Rompella's triple with the bases loaded was a key blow. Seier was two-for-three and Jenny Slater blasted a home run.

Millburn students help save the environment

The fifth grade class at Millburn School has decided to turn the tables around and do some teaching themselves. They have recently sent out letters to various Lake County businesses urging them to recycle.

Enclosed with the letters they sent a list of alternatives that can be used both on the work site and at the employee's homes. "The students have watched movies and read many articles on the subject and they are well-prepared," adds instructor Chris Griesheimer.

This campaign is a follow-up activity to Earth Day. The students originally began studying several units on different forms of energy, including participating in group entries into the annual science fair.

The students seem to be taking a "do as I do" attitude. They each have brought in paper bags that were then taped to the side of their desks. All of their waste paper goes into the bags. "They are really finding out how much paper they use," claims Barb Phillips instructor/coordinator for the gifted program at Millburn.

As Griesheimer also adds, anytime the students need scratch paper for math or English, they simply dig into their bags and use a sheet that was previously thrown away.

One of the other activities the students have done was to bury ordinary garbage in flower pots filled with dirt and water. Two weeks later they dug them up to seen what had decomposed. "We tried to simulate a landfill and used ordinary trash to let the students realize what happens to our garbage," indicates Phillips.

Obviously, the students are taking an active role in saving their environment. So if you are a local Lake County business, be on the lookout for your letter from the concerned Millburn students.

In other Millburn news, there are 30 fifth grade students who are members of the new "Just Say No Club." It is the second such club registered in Lake County. The students expressed an interest in the organization as an extension of their "Growing Up Well" program. It's goal is to educate the kids and others through fun activities.

May 7 through 11 was designated at National "Just Say No" Week. Students took part in several festivities with the help of their enthusiastic faculty sponsor, Janet Schwarts. Local businesses that have been generous with their time/support are the Aristocrat Shoe Repair Shop, Ben Franklin, Holiday Inn, Jockey International, and True Value Hardware. The club is off to a great start.

CLC sets garden tour

Explore masterpieces of landscape design in Chicago's parks and gardens on a tour sponsored by the College of Lake County Southlake Educational Center on Tuesday, May 15 from 9 to 4 p.m.

The tour fee of $37 includes motor coach, professional tour guide, and lunch in the poolside garden room of a highrise overlooking Lake Michigan.

Participants will tour the Garfield Park conservatory, the wild flower garden in Grant Park, the Japanese gardens in Jameson park and a remarkable garden on the roof of an elegant highrise including mature trees, waterfalls, a lagoon and blooming flowers.

Enrollment will be accepted until May 10. For information and registration call Southlake Center at (708) 433-7884.

VFW plans parade May 28

The Lake Villa Memorial Post 4308 and Ladies Auxiliary to the VFW are sponsoring their 34th annual Memorial Day Parade in Lake Villa May 28.

The day will begin with a Memorial Day Service at 11 a.m. outside the Post Home, at Railroad and Grand Aves.

Line-up for the parade starts at 12:30 p.m. at Pleviak School, and parade starts at 1 p.m. Anyone wishing to join the parade is welcome. The parade route is west on Grand Ave. to Cedar Ave. and north to Lehman Park. There will be a service at the park with principle speaker Linda Hess.

Indianapolis firm discovers:
Special New cream for arthritis
INDIANAPOLIS, IN. (Wire Bulletin)—If you suffer from the pain of arthritis, rheumatism or bursitis, there's a small company in Indianapolis, Indiana that manufactures a product that you should try.
The product is called Pain-Bust-RII, and it is a soothing medicated cream that you simply massage into your aching joints. It goes to work immediately by penetrating deep into the joints where pain begins—bringing instant relief. And what's more it will not stain or smear clothing or bed sheets.
Though the product is not widely known, it is 100% safe and users claim that there's nothing else on the market that even comes close to it. In fact, according to company president Bryan Auer... "we get more re-orders on this product than any of the other 33 products in our line! And people write us every day telling us that Pain-Bust-RII is their only hope."
Read what your users have to say:
"I use PAIN BUST because I suffer from tension in my back and shoulders. I can't praise your product enough. I've used other ointments, but they don't seem to work as fast nor last as long. Thank you. Thank you... Thank you!" C.K.F.
"Last night when I went to sleep I rubbed some PAIN BUST on my sore aching knee. 15 minutes later I fell sound asleep and woke 8 hours later with absolutely no pain. I wish I know about PAIN BUST long ago." B.M.S.
"I'm 72 years old and suffer from arthritis in both hands and feet. On damp, cold days I used to go out of my mind with pain. Not anymore. I now enjoy peace of mind and pain free joints. Respectfully." B.B.G

Vehicle stickers now on sale

Village Clerk Sue McNally of Fox Lake announced that 1990 vehicle stickers now are on sale at the village hall.

Fox Lake will not repeat the mail solicitation tried last year because it didn't prove to be cost effective. "It was wasteful and we missed a lot of car owners," McNally reported.

Code enforcement officers will continue to press for purchase of 1989 stickers until the June 30 expiration date. This means that laggards will have to purchase both 1989 and 1990 stickers.

Fred Dierker, supervisor of code enforcement, reported that the vehicle sticker receipts for the current fiscal year now stand at $51,000, a total of $6,000 more than projected.

The unexpected increase came from population growth and better enforcement, Dierker stated.

Viola Makes List

Buffalo Grove resident Carlo A. Viola was named to the dean's list at Elmhurst College.

Pasta projects

Residents of Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center enjoy some of the Pasta projects made by Lakeland Newspapers' Randee Rian. Residents include: (from left) Isaac Willia,s, Gloria Koziol, Bobbie Pinka (activity director), Elsie Simmons and Germaine Vermeyer.

Driver Appreciation Week May 14-18

National School Bus Service, Inc. of Barrington has designated the five days of May 14 to 18 as the company's inaugural Driver Appreciation Week.

Illinois Regional General Manager Norman Gibson explained that the prime objective of this event is to provide special recognition to the company's team of professional drivers.

Although initiated and sponsored by National's Corporate Headquarters in Barrington, Driver Appreciation Week will be very much a local affair at the company's regional and branch offices.

Managers and employees have been encouraged to use their imagination in hosting daily events for their week-long 'open houses.' As a result, plans have been carefully laid for backyard-style cook-outs, pizza and salad feasts, doughnuts and bottomless coffee pots, and hot dogs and sausages by the busload to cater to drivers and their spouses and to school and other client representatives who visit National's locations May 14 to 18.

An open house with coffee doughnuts will be held on Wednesday, May 16 from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Mundelein branch office, 26526 N. Butterfield Rd., for all who are interested in helping celebrate this first event.

'Red' Anderson to address municipal clerks May 10

The Municipal Clerks of Lake County will hold their monthly luncheon meeting Thursday, May 10, at The Lambs in Green Oaks, Rt. 176 and the Toll Road at noon.

Guest speakers for the May meeting will be Jack "Red" Anderson, Lake County treasurer and Kathy Clayton, supervisor. During the current meeting year, the Municipal Clerks of Lake County has been studying the tax process from assessments through final payment. Anderson will explain the treasurer's responsibilities regarding tax bills and procedures for the sale of delinquent properties. Clayton, who administers the Senior Citizen Tax Deferred program, will offer remarks about this program.

The Municipal Clerks of Lake County is a professional organization which meets monthly to discuss various matters of common interest within local government. The organization also serves as a resource for municipal clerks seeking assistance and discussion of the various duties which fall to the local clerk. The Municipal Clerks of Lake County represents the 50 municipalities located in Lake County.

Sheriff to dedicate firearms

The Lake County Sheriff's Dept. will formally dedicate its firearms range Tuesday, May 15 at noon in conjunction with Police Memorial Day/National Police Week.

Police departments throughout the county will participate in an invitational shoot competition from 7 to 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 to 6 p.m.

Sheriff Clint Grinnell, along with other dignitaries will speak and bagpipers will highlight the event.

The range is located on the northside of Russell Rd.

STEER THIS WAY

Wayne Hoepner

New machines to recycle the refrigerant in auto air conditioners are expected to protect the environment and save money. Currently, systems are vented and refrigerant lost when repairing leaks.

Check radiator hoses periodically for cracks, bulges or leaks. A cool hose should feel flexible but not squishy. If there's any question, have the hoses replaced. A burst hose is a real mess.

Safety belts keep people from slamming into the windshield, the steering wheel or other parts of the car; in fact, they keep people from hitting each other.

Danger ahead on the road? It's usually wiser to steer around the obstacle than to brake and hope you don't hit it. Decelerate as you steer; this improves the traction of the front tires.

Options such as air conditioning, automatic transmission and a good AM/FM radio are good investments in cars, vans or light trucks. They generally pay for themselves at resale time.

Man 'who is there' saluted at dinner

BY BILL SCHROEDER
Lakeland Newspapers

"He's there when you need him."

That description was sounded over and over again to describe the devotion to duty to the citizens of Lake County and the people of Illinois exhibited by State Rep. John S. Matijevich in his 24 years of service in the Illinois General Assembly Assembly.

An outpouring of affection and admiration was showered on the legislative veteran by Democrats and Republicans alike at a banquet sponsored by the Lake County Democratic Central Committee honoring the Democrat serving the 61st Dist. of Lake County.

A crowd estimated at more than 400 turned out at the Mundelein Holiday Inn to listen to praise and thanks heaped upon the modest, soft-spoken politician who has risen to the ranks of leadership in the Illinois House.

County Clerk Linda Hess was the first to declare, "John, you're always there when we need you," as she presented him with a copy of a history of Lake County. Hess admonished the admiring throng, "Don't confuse this dinner with a retirement dinner."

State Rep Grace Mary Stern, Lake County's former county clerk, said, "Lake County really loves John.

"During my years in government, I have come to know that John is there when you need him."

A number of member unions from the Lake County Labor Council bestow praise or plaques---or both---on Matijevich who watched the parade of speakers with his wife, Agnes.

Dr. Charles Thomas, superintendent of the North Chicago Unit School Dist. presented the Waukegan Democrat with an award from the board of education.

President Charles Isely III of the Waukegan-Lake County Chamber of commerce praised Matijevich by saying, "A lot of people don't know what he does for us."

Mayor Bobby E. Thompson recalled that Matijevich was police chief and police magistrate of North Chicago before elected a state representative. He presented the happy legislator with a framed copy of a resolution adopted by the city council.

Jeanne Simon was a well qualified stand-in for her husband, U.S. Sen. Paul Simon who expressed regrets. Other state Democrats also expressed regrets at being unable to attend the May 4 tribute where Matijevich stipulated that the proceeds of the $50 per plate dinner be directed to the Lake County Democratic committee.

Taking the podium to express thanks for all the accolades, Matijevich admitted that he has "not been for testimonials, but I've enjoyed this one."

Salute legislative dean

Bi-partisan salute to Democratic State Rep. John Matijevich (D-North Chicago) of the 61st Dist. drew Democrats and Republicans alike to the Mundelein Holiday Inn on May 4. Among the many County Board members feting the dean of Lake County legislators for his 24 years of service are, from left, Forest Preserve Dist. Chairman C. Richard Anderson, Suzi Schmidt of Lake Villa, the guest of honor, Carol Calabresa of Libertyville, John Reindl of Mundelein and County Clerk Linda Hess. (Photo by Virginia Krueger)
